RACING'S GREAT COMMENTATOR

The news of Joe Palmer's death is a crushing blow to those who value the importance of the honest and unbiased reporting of Thoroughbred Racing and Breeding. Dying at the age of 48 from a heart ailment, Mr. Palmer leaves a void in the world of turf writing that will be very hard to replace. The breeding of Thoroughbred horses to the uninitiated is a world of statistical analysis that leaves the uninformed bewildered and cold to its difficulties as well as to its fascination. Mr. Palmer with a delightful introspect and an honest and farsighted appraisal brought the complexities of the turf world into focus for the man on the street.

Writing in the New York Herald Tribune, his column was read by millions of Americans who laughed at his subtle barbs at many of racing's big whigs, appreciated his fairness when even in criticism and looked to him daily for a keen appraisal of racing's winning bloodlines, his quick, analytical style that accurately reported the success and failure of horse and rider, trainer and owner. Mr. Palmer was not one to soft pedal when there was need for truth and track managements, owners, and riders felt the touch of his pen when there was need for rebuke and many responded as if pricked with their own spurs.

The honesty of his writing did much for the cause of the sport of racing in popularizing it with the public, making it human and giving it and its owners the touch of the common man. And yet Joe Palmer was no common man himself. A brilliant scholar and writer, he taught English at the University of Kentucky where he had previously received a Phi Beta Kappa and a Ph Degree. A real love of the world of the turf led him to give up a promising and intellectual career for that of writing on racing and breeding and the people and horses in which this world abounds. In this world he expanded with every year of his endeavour, grasping with his able mind the root of the problems which beset the sport and setting them down in clear and concise fashion so that all could understand and sort the good from the bad for he understood so well how keenly this world needs the support of the public for every breath of its existence.

One of the things Joe Palmer gave to everyone who read his column was a delightful sense of humor which sparkled through all of his reporting, making even the duller of races or the most complicated subject of track policy come alive. With this humor was an innate sense of fair play which always made him call a spade a spade no matter if it trod on tender toes of influential sporting characters, prima donna leading riders or millionaire owners. Everyone received the same treatment. If Joe Palmer thought they had a contribution to offer to the sport, he said so, if he felt they were failing to pull their weight or were chiseling at the expense of racing he said so, and the public appreciated the value of his words for his judgment and insight were never off the beam and always to the point.

Joe Palmer's words, his wit and his knowledge will long be a byword for racing. The editing of his American Race Horses has been a masterful contribution to racing records and already forms an integral part of the essential records of the turf. So, too, are his books, Names in Pedigrees and Horses in the Blue Grass, of inestimable value as accurate commentaries on racing's bloodlines, as a racing reference and as a collector's item. But most of all Joe Palmer will be remembered and loved for his own personality, God given ability to live at ease with all men of all walks of life, to sympathize with their problems no matter how small, to laugh with them in their joy and lend a hand in their sorrow. His was truly a touch for which the world of sport can be sincerely grateful and the substance of which has and will be a lasting contribution.

Letters To The Editor

For the Judge

Dear Editor:

While I do not advocate prolonging a distasteful subject, especially one which should not in all probability have been mentioned in the first place, I get so damn mad and provoked every time I think of the reply to the letter published by you in the September 26th edition from Mr. Stifler. I have waited almost two weeks to see if my anger would not subside instead, it has risen to the boiling point.

When I first read the Stifler letter, my reaction was "Oh, Judges hear that all the time. I wonder why in hell they want to go through such torture." It is a difficult job to get a good, conscientious and able judge and it is very rare that outside of being thanked, a judge gets any further recompense than his own satisfaction of a job well done and innumerable demands to officiate at the many shows which are becoming so frequent.

Now for the answer. I take it that it must be from the woman who made that remark, there is no denial that the remark was made, and certainly no one could possibly be so vitriolic unless they actually would make such a remark themselves. Furthermore, the letter is filled with a great many inaccuracies especially in the remark, "to the best of my knowledge the author of this letter has never supported the sport in any role except that of a spectator."

Time and space are lacking for me to go into the background of this particular judge. He is known to the hunting people from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia and in many other parts of the country where equestrian activities take place. Furthermore, this particular judge has an outstanding sporting library but is so conscientious that I know personally that he has checked the libraries of other sportsmen in this vicinity to settle a point which could have been answered from the books in his own home but he wanted to make doubly sure by checking other references. His reputation in this part of the country, which has quite a distinguished representation of able horsemen, is excellent not only as a judge but as an able rider in his own right.

Somehow or other I feel that the American Horse Shows Association has officers of sufficient caliber to decide whether a person has the background to become a judge and that spectators or parents who feel that "the fact that he has gone to all the trouble and expense necessary to have his entry in the ring for any class in question is mute evidence of his active interests in the sport," is not in all cases of the necessary caliber to competently, intelligently, and tactfully capable of telling the American Horse Shows Association what should be done.

It is very rare that you find a judge "where his utterances will embarrass the legion of able understanding ladies and gentlemen who grace the center of our rings today".

It is usually the spectators and parents who are so loud in their utterances that they cause judges to write such a letter as appeared in The Chronicle on September 26.

Sincerely yours,

Lawrence B. Illoway

Fly Spray Vs. Deer

Dear Editor:

I whipped hounds for the Old Chatham Hunt for eleven years. Deer spoiled many a day and gave me often, too often, long work-outs.

The other night in front of the fireplace I solved this problem. The next day I tried it out and it worked.

Here it is a fly spray gun. I saw the doe cross the dirt road and could hear hounds coming fast. I ran up the road and sprayed the grass about 2 feet wide and 10 feet long where she crossed. (Practically no wind). The first hound, giving good tongue, came along and up to the fence about in the middle where I had sprayed it. He stopped. For good luck I shot some at him. He was 4 or 5 feet from me so I probably didn't hit him. He went back. Six other hounds came up the line to the fence. Not one hound came through the old wire fence. I held the hounds back probably 3 or 4 minutes until the Master and whips arrived.

I now "whip" in my Ford, so my only problem is to have the deer cross a road and that I be there.

To be honest, this idea was not original with me. Some years ago our huntsman's wife, Mrs. Mahoney, saw a deer cross the road, ran her old car down to the spot and just before the hounds came along she stepped on the gas good and proper and pulled out the choke half way. The hounds stopped, seemingly forgot all about the deer and we packed them in with no trouble.

I would suggest that the Master, the Huntsman and the whips carry stink bombs. Now don't tell me that this would roughen the hounds' noses so they could not run a fox the rest of the day. I have seen our hounds "tangle" with a skunk and an hour afterwards run a fox beautifully.

I would appreciate any experiences along this line that you have had in the past that were successful and also what luck you have with this.

Very truly yours,

W. Gordon Cox

Keeneland Fall Sales

Yearling Market Still Strong With Sales Attracting Many Buyers

Easy Mark

The first two seasons of the October Yearling Sales at Keeneland showed that the market was still strong and breeders of good stock could still expect to realize a profit.

Although there were no $40,000 or even $30,000 yearlings sold at the first two sessions, there were quite a few which hit the 5 figure mark. On Tuesday afternoon Karl Martin and W. N. McKinney, of Knoxville, Tenn., paid $15,000 for a *Goya II colt, which is a half-brother to With Pleasure, a top ranking sprinter and a most promising young sire. Frank Brach, Chicago candy manufacturer paid $11,000 for a War Admiral colt; Henry Forrest, as agent, was very active in the bidding and many of the youngsters were knocked down to his nod.

Mrs. Sara Chait was the high bidder for the second day's sales, when she went to $11,700 for a Mighty Story roan colt.

The averages for the first sessions was above that of last year, which is a very good sign as to the stability of the market, as there were no yearlings which went into the high bracket figures.

On the 3rd day William Helis, Jr., whose Spartan Valor carved out quite a name for himself in 1952, was the principal buyer. The New Orleansian paid the highest price of the sale when he went to $17,000 for a colt by *Heliopolis out of the Man o'War mare War Flower, consigned by Miss Mildred Woolwine. Mr. Helis also bought a daughter of Roman and Bum's Rush out of the Darby Dan Farm for $12,000.

The $2,218 average realized for this year's fall yearlings was $111 below last year's average, but the market was considerably stronger as the 1951 sales included almost all of Maine Chance Farms yearling crop, and 23 yearlings out of the consignment brought $349,000, one going to L. B. Mayer for $55,000. The overall picture was very heartening to the sales company as a well bred well made youngster still means money in the bank to Thoroughbred breeders.

Career of 3-Year-Old Isle of Bond Rouses Community Interest In Racing

Karl Koontz

Behind every horse race there is usually a good story if you are on the scene and have the time to ferret it out. The big name races, catering to the big name stables, are generally well taken care of as far as publicity is concerned, but somehow the "little man" gets the go by Race tracks often miss a good bet by disregarding those "little people", for often times a horse, not necessarily a top one, bred in a certain locality will attract much more attention from the members of that community than an international race.

Some years ago, 3 to be exact, Charles F. Wisecarver bought the mare Dreamy Isle for $425 at the dispersal sale of the late Dr. F. M. Allen's breeding stock. Dreamy Isle, a bay or brown mare by Flight of Time—Jane Green, by Dick Finnell, was 16-years-old at the time and was in foal to Bail Bond. She had produced the winners Pilate's Dream, Midway Isle, Windward Isle, and Isle of War—winners of $33,280.

Charley Wisecarver, whose love of a horse began in his pony days, farms a track of 500 acres called Janerville, a name which probably dates back to the land grant days. The farm is located some 3 miles southwest of Berryville, Virginia, in the county of Clarke. This is the same locality from which Audley Farm once sent forth some of the best race horses.

Dreamy Isle dropped her foal in June—a nice brown colt which was the first Thoroughbred Charley Wisecarver had ever bred or owned, and was to be the first he ever raced. When this colt was weaned he was joined by a chestnut colt by Happy Buckle—Playwick, by Westwick, which had been acquired from the Weir Brothers of Berryville.

The pair were raised together, and the only deviation which the two received from general feeding methods, was the gallon of milk, straight from the cow, which each got 2 or 3 times a week. As early 2-year-olds, they were gentled and broken to saddle in preparation for their racing careers.

On April 20 Isle of Bond, the Bail Bond—Dreamy Isle colt, was sent to Trainer J. V. Stewart; while Buckle's Play, the Happy Buckle—Playwick colt, left a week earlier for Charles Town and Trainer O. M. Follins Stable.

Isle of Bond made his first start on July 25th at Narragansett, and a group of Berryville citizens, including the owner journeyed to see him run. Leaving the evening of the day before he was to race, they arrived in time to see him go postward, then after the race piled into the car for home. However their efforts were well worth it as Isle of Bond rushed boldly after the leader, was just a neck off the pace setter at the half mile pole and then weakened in the late stages of the 5 1-2 furlong run. He managed to save a small part of the purse—the smallest part—$150 for 4th.

Buckle's Play made his first start a great deal closer to home, and the way things turned out I hate to think what might have happened to him if those same citizens that went to see him run had traveled a great distance. In his debut, the son of Happy Buckle was running well but when the field entered the home stretch, Buckle's Play took one quick look at the Cumberland grandstand, with its sea of faces and roar and clamor—stopped and tried to wheel—and then finished absolutely last.

Isle of Bond broke his maiden on August 23 at Atlantic City exactly a month after his first start. Trainer Stewart had the son of Bail Bond sharp for his second foray postward and the colt took the track at the break, raced Lochlady into defeat and came on to win easily by 2 lengths. Two dollars on his nose would have brought you back $17.80, and numerous town people of Berryville were considerably richer after the race.

The 2nd victory for this 2-year-old brown colt came in an allowance field on October 10th at Laurel. In the race, the Wisecarver color-bearer "...reached contention from the outside on the turn, gained a narrow decision and was disqualified for having bumped Caesar Did". Needless to say a number of the Berryville citizenry was on hand, and have a picture to prove it—posing with the "winner"—before the official sign flashed. To say that gloom "rained" over Berryville that night was an understatement—it poured.

Isle of Bond's next effort came in another allowance event on the 20th, in which he was meeting Royal Bay Gem, a colt that has given his sire, *Royal Gem II, a host of copy for advertisements. As the race developed, Isle of Bond was sent after the pacesetter much earlier in the race than was requested by Trainer Stewart, so that when the real racing began in the mile event, he faltered. Royal Bay Gem was the winner and in his next outing won the Spalding Lowe Jenkins Stakes.

On October 31, the call was out again—Isle of Bond goes today. Included with this flash was a report of the trainer's estimate of his candidate's ability. And the good townspeople don't doubt Trainer Stewart's reports.

This time when some of the citizen's of Berryville flocked to get within range of the camera, practically to the exclusion of the hero, it was the real McCoy. For Isle of Bond, had just hung up the time of 1.06 3-5 for 5 1-2 furlongs and garnered the purse of $2,600. The record for 5 1-2 furlongs at Pimlico, set this past May by Senator Joe, stands at 1.06, proving that Isle of Bond is a handy kind of 2-year-old.

In his 7 starts, up to November 1, this colt has a score of 2 wins and 1 place (the result of the disqualification), with earnings of $6,050 (which would have upped some $1,575 if he hadn't incurred the wrath of the stewards). Isle of Bond also has to his credit the fastest 7 furlongs at Laurel Park on the morning of October 17—performing his job handily.

The other Wisecarver colt, Buckle's Play has been bothered with sore shins, and came out of his last race with them bucked. He is now at the farm, has been fired and turned out. For company he has Isle of Bond's dam, the now 19-year-old Dreamy Isle, which is once again in foal to Bail Bond—having lost her 1951 foal by that sire.

Bail Bond, Discovery—By Appointment by Burgoon King, now standing at Norman Haymaker's Clifton Farm, Berryville, was a member of that famous "4-headed" Santa Anita Handicap of 1946. In that race, as you no doubt recall, War Knight beat First Fiddle a head, with that horse a head in front of Snow Boots, which was another head over Bail Bond. Though he had to be content with the 4th slot, Bail Bond was still good enough to defeat horses of the calibre of Triplicate, Jeep, Be Faithful, Knockdown, Challenge Me, Autocrat, Paperboy, and others in the 1 1-4 mile $100,000 race.

In getting back to our first paragraph, we should like to add that although, by no stretch of the imagination could Isle of Bond be compared with Citation, Tom Fool, Battlefield, or Wilwyn, he is one of the best things that could happen to the sport of racing. I doubt if Audley Farm in its heyday had a horse which the people of Clarke County followed more closely than Isle of Bond has been tabbed. From the town cop to the editor of the county paper, each has known every good or bad move this colt made; and what's more, have journeyed far to the back up their faith with cold cash.

Zuccherò's Defeat In Empire Gold Cup Unhinges British Turf Scribes

Easy Mark

The aftermath of Zuccherò's defeat in the Empire Gold Cup at Jamaica, has British Turf writers all in a dither over what they call an "ignominious defeat". "Gimcrack", turf correspondent for the Daily Graphic even went so far as to demand that the British Jockey Club should call for reports from The Jockey Club in this country on Zuccherò's race.

Gimcrack had this to say: "No doubt the candid American press, untrammelled by libel laws, will throw up facts, but The Jockey Club, as guardians of the British turf and its prestige, should make an official move. If an English soccer team disgraced itself in the manner Zuccherò did, the Football Association would have an inquiry and would publish the findings. While Wilwyn and Zuccherò showed with great credit on the grass track at Laurel, Zuccherò ran like a selling plater on the dirt track at Jamaica."

"Zuccherò had proved himself the best middle-distance 4-year-old in England. His York defeat of Dynamiater suggested he was the best in Europe. Whether One Count is the world's best or not, he certainly is not 150 yards better than Zuccherò. Maybe Charlie Smirke's statement that the colt would not do well on a dirt track is the sole explanation. If so, British horses should not be exposed to ignominy where they do not have a chance."

Vernon Morgan Reuters racing editor, says, "It is unlikely the British Jockey Club will take any action if—and it is a big if—they feel that the British turf has been brought into disrepute by Zuccherò's failure, they might ask connections of the horse for an explanation. But the question is, will they take this line of query. I say emphatically no."

"After all, Zuccherò ran well enough the previous week-end and it clearly shows that a dirt track resulted in giving a much different performance in New York. Moreover, any racehorse can have an 'off-day'. There was no such inquiry when Papyrus failed equally dismally against Zev in their historic match. The only outcome of Zuccherò's inglorious performance, following that of Papyrus, is that owners are going to think twice about the cost and trouble of shipping horses across the Atlantic for races run other than on the turf, to which they are accustomed. The question is one for the owners, who did not have to get permission from the Jockey Club to send horses overseas. If such permission were essential, the British Jockey Club might withhold it, if it felt a horse could not do itself justice in another country, but, as they do not have this prerogative, there is no question of their being able to exercise it."

Now just to keep on friendly relations with our British sporting brethren, we will put our two cents into the erudite discussion, and say that it will not be necessary for the British Jockey Club to demand a report from their American counterpart, we will just report it to anyone concerned from the Daily Racing Form's chart of the race, "Zuccherò, started from outside the gate was rank in the opening stages when placed under restraint, appeared unwilling to extend himself after the opening half mile and was eased up in the final quarter mile when hopelessly outrun." That my friends was Zuccherò's performance in the 1 and 5-8 mile Gold Cup, at Jamaica on Sat., Oct. 25. What caused him to behave and run as the chart caller saw him, is anybody's guess, and you can take your pick.

However, the disturbing parts of what Mr. Vernon Morgan and Gimcrack have to say has very little to do with Zuccherò's poor showing. The idea of getting permission from the British Jockey Club by an owner to race his charge in America is a line of thinking that is beyond the scope and imagination of a true sporting nation or people. The thought of seeking permission to send one's horse overseas to race is a revolting one to free men. As for the Jockey Club of one country demanding a report from a Jockey Club of another country on the poor performance of a horse because said country's bloodstock lost prestige is another idea that smacks of something very distasteful.

It is about time that British Turf Writers and the British Bloodstock interests start to do some straight and forward thinking about their sales program. For years they have been placing the superiority of their bloodstock on such a high pedestal that it would seem no other country was even close or could even come near to their lofty heights. A lot of American Thoroughbreds until recently were not even deemed worthy of being entered in their stud book. The manner in which the French showed up this fallacy by their repeated victories on the English turf with horses which embodied American bloodlines, began to show in the export trade. The British promptly did an about face and admitted the American Thoroughbred to their books. To this day however, our British cousins still insist that their bloodstock is superior. This is why Zuccherò's defeat is so humiliating. But in every corner of the globe where Thoroughbreds are raced, there are too many non-British horses, which compete with and defeat the English product.

To our own country we have imported horses from England, Ireland, Australia, Argentina, Chile and other parts of the world, which have given very good accounts of themselves in matching strides with American-bred horses. On the other hand many horses have been imported to this country from all over the world, which were so rank they only polluted some of our good American lines.

The bold truth still remains, that the class of any breeding stock can only be proven on the racecourse, whether it be on a turf course or otherwise. Certainly the exploits of *Noor in this country added lustre to the Irish and British bloodlines, as did the feats of *Rico Monte to the Argentine. Today the British Empire does not have a corner on the market, when it comes to good horses, and to say their bloodstock is superior is plain out and out ballyhoo.

And if the British Jockey Club should ever be given the power to grant permission to owners before they could ship their horses overseas to race, their breeding industry will suffer. The prestige of the British horse would be enhanced much more if some ruling body or commission passed upon the horses which were being exported to other parts of the world. If they only sold or exported those which they thought had a chance of making good in the countries to which they are to be exported, the prestige of the British export would rise immeasurably. Until then let's be sports about it in victory or defeat and let prestige take care of itself.

*Done Sleeping Accounts For New Jersey Hunt Cup In Final Effort Over Timber

Chris Wood

Running the best race of a victory-studded career, George T. Weymouth's *Done Sleeping found little trouble in accounting for the 31st running of the New Jersey Hunt Cup at Far Hills, N. J., on Saturday, November 1st. Cleverly handled by the owner's son, Eugene Weymouth, America's leading amateur rider, the 10-year-old Irish import defeated Mrs. S. T. Patterson's *Gift of Gold by 3 lengths to clinch the 1952 title of America's leading timber horse. Mrs. W. J. Strawbridge's *Land's Corner gained the show berth, some 4 lengths off Mrs. Patterson's color-bearer, T. J. McKelvey's Hydro Bello, the only other starter, finished 4th and last.

Never out of the money during his 8 starts over timber this year, the gelded son of Rondo—Sleepy Essex accounted for his 5th straight timber race and handed *Gift of Gold his 3rd defeat of the year. The latter was ridden by his usual jockey, F. D. "Dooley" Adams, who said, following the race, that his mount never went better, but he just met a better horse.

Running his usual race, *Done Sleeping lagged in the early stages and ran last for 2 miles of the 4 mile journey. His rider permitted the gelding to run on his own until approaching the 12th fence. At this juncture, he called upon him and *Done Sleeping gradually improved his position, while jumping in a flawless manner. After jumping the 17th obstacle, the reigning champion moved on his field and got within 3 lengths of *Gift of Gold, who was closely attended by *Land's Corner. Restrained from going to the front at this point, *Done Sleeping was called upon on approaching the 20th and final fence. *Gift of Gold led over the jump by a head and from there to the wire it was just a matter of how many lengths *Done Sleeping would open to gain his obvious victory.

Running over drought-hardened turf, the winner covered the grueling route in 7:30 4-5, the fastest time ever recorded for the race, which was inaugurated in 1915. The "record time" might be questioned, as starter, H. A. Plumb, claimed that a change in the course shortened the "about" 4 miles distance this year.

Absent on business in California, owner George T. Weymouth was represented by Mrs. Weymouth and their daughter, Patty, who along with Eugene Weymouth, accepted the beautiful challenge cup and replica. This victory gave Mr. Weymouth a first leg on the cup, which has been retired on two previous occasions. The crowd of some 5,000 sports enthusiasts, who enjoyed spring-like weather and an excellent day of sport, probably saw the veteran "chaser" go postward for the last time. Following the victorious effort in the final timber race of the year, Mrs. Weymouth said *Done Sleeping would be retired to their new farm at Middletown, Del., in the heart of the Viemeade Hunt country. In annexing the timber championship honors for this year, the Irish invader duplicated his feat of 1949, when he reigned supreme for Alvin Untermeyer, his owner at that time.

Repeating her winning effort of 1950, Mrs. Fay Ingalls' Bab's Whey gained a close decision in the Wilmerding Memorial Cup, a 2 mile hurdle handicap with a purse value of $2,000. Fencing, not too well, the game mare responded to Jockey C. Cushman's riding, after landing 4th over the 11th and final hurdle, to close with a rush and just get up in a rousing finish. The victory gave the Hot Springs, Va., sportswoman a second leg on the challenge cup, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pfizer.

Roman Way, representing Mrs. S. C. Clark, Jr., led for most of the journey and appeared to have the race well in hand. However, Jockey T. Field was so busy "looking after" the fast-closing *Coup-De-Vite, with E. Jackson aboard, he permitted the eventual winner and K. F. Chandor's Fonda to have the final jump without contention and slip under the wire as named. Field forced *Coup-De-Vite into the wing, causing the horse to fall over the final hurdle. When interviewed by the stewards, Field's mount was disqualified from 3rd position and placed last in the order of finish. This moved Emmett Roberts' Fleur De Joie into the 3rd slot. The winner's time over the hard going was 3:46 3-5.

Arthur E. Pew, Jr.'s *Bakshishi found little trouble in winning the Gladstone, a 6-furlong dash over the turf. Ably handled by jockey "Paddy" Smithwick, the imported gelding turned back W. H. Frantz' Arctic Fox by 2 lengths. Allison Stern's War Rhodes, making his debut on the hunt racing circuit, finished a fast-closing 3rd in the field of 7 starters. The winner negotiated the short trip in 1:16 4-5.

Showing improved form under Jockey Melvin Ferral's handling, Mrs. S. T. Patterson's Thermion graduated from the maiden hurdlers ranks in the Harry E. Harris, a 1 3-4 mile test over 8 of the lesser obstacles. Coming from far back, the Pittsburgh, Pa., representative closed fast to defeat *Auftakt by a 1-2 length. Samuel R. Fry's *Poughbay, gained the show award in the field of 11 starters. Mrs. Wm. C. Wright's Phosphor, led for most of the journey and appeared to have the race at his mercy, when he took a wrong course on the final turn. Thermion covered the course in 3:15 4-5.

John Glennon of West Chester, Pa., who recently joined the owners ranks on the hunt racing circuit, saw Brown Rover carry his silks to victory for the first time in the Peapack, a 1 1-4 mile turf race. Riding his second winner of the day, Jockey C. Cushman rated the 6-year-old son of Fighting Fox off the early pace. Entering the stretch in 3rd position, behind *Zill-Us-Sultan and *Queer Wednesday, Arthur E. Pew, Jr.'s color-bearers, Jockey Cushman went to work on his mount and scored a 1-length victory. His contention in the stretch, finished second and third, as named. The invader from major course racing, traveled the route in 2:06.

SUMMARIES

  3. War Rhodes, (A. Stern), 145, C. Harr. (7-20-52, Atl., flat, 8th)
  4. Sandy Flash, (Mrs. W. C. Wright), 139, E. Phelps. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 8th)
  5. Blue Room, (Sycamore Farm), 142, H. Rulon. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 3rd)
  6. Flying Monarch, (Bellevue Farm), 142, C. Cushman. (9-6-52, F. H., flat, 12th)
  7. Manaybanay, (F. R. Crego), 138, L. Moore. (11-19-49, Mtp., flat, 2nd)
- *Barshishi, rated just off Blue Room's pace, saved ground and was drawing clear at the finish. Arctic Fox was the best of the others and went well. War Rhodes ran an even race. Blue Room showed early speed, but gave way in the stretch drive. Scratched: Sugar Hill, Hadapast. *Mr. Briny, Benbow.

THE HARRY E. HARRIS, hurdles, abt. 1 1/4 mi., 3 & up. Purse, $1,000. Net value to winner, $635; 2nd, $200; 3rd, $100; 4th, $50. Winner: gr. g. (4) by *Easton—Gino's Moll, by *Gino. Trainer: M. H. Dixon, Sr. Breeder: Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh. Time: 3:15 4-5.

1. Thermion, (Mrs. S. T. Patterson), 152, M. Ferral. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 6th)
  2. *Auftakt, (J. Funkhouser), 155, D. Marzani. (10-25-52, R. B., brush, 2nd)
  3. *Poughbay, (S. R. Fry), 155, J. Murphy. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 6th)
  4. Brown Adobe, (J. D. McCaffrey), 139, C. C. Cassidy. (10-18-52, Med., flat, 7th)
  5. Wygant, (Mrs. J. W. Strawbridge, Jr.), 150, K. Field. (10-25-52, R. B., hur., 7th)
  6. Petrovna, (Bellevue Farm), 135, C. Cushman. (10-18-52, Med., brush, fell)
  7. Dadon, (G. S. Rayson), 145, H. Lewis. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 11th)
  8. War Gold, (Mrs. C. W. Williams), 156, Mr. E. Weymouth. (10-18-52, Med., flat, 10th)
  9. Fair Run, (T. J. McKelvey), 145, L. Graham. (10-18-52, Med., tim., 4th)
  10. Composer, (Mrs. E. B. Early), 146, C. Bowersox. (10-18-52, Med., brush, lost rider)
- Phosphor, (Mrs. W. C. Wright), 137,

E. Phelps. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 1st)

Thermion favored the hard-going and closed with a rush to win. *Auftakt ran a game race. *Poughbay lost ground on the turns but closed well. Brown Adobe had early speed, but had very little left in the stretch run. Dadon had early foot, but tired. Phosphor led on the final turn and looked like he was going to take it all when he ran off the required course. Scratched: Rayquick.

THE NEW JERSEY HUNT CUP, abt. 4 mi., timber, fair hunting country, 4 & up. Purse, $600. Net value to winner, $390; 2nd, $120; 3rd, $60; 4th, $30. Winner: br. g. (10) by Rondo—Sleepy Essex, by Essexford. Trainer: W. D. Hughes. Breeder: W. Fitzgerald (Ireland). Time: 7:30 2-5.

1. *Done Sleeping, (G. T. Weymouth), 168, Mr. E. Weymouth. (10-25-52, R. B., tim., 1st)
2. *Gift of Gold, (Mrs. S. T. Patterson), 168, F. D. Adams. (10-25-52, R. B., tim., 2nd)
3. *Land's Corner, (Mrs. W. J. Strawbridge), 168, E. H. Bennett. (10-8-52, Lig., tim., 1st)
4. Hydro Bello, (Thomas McKelvey), 154, M. Ferral. (10-18-52, Mal., tim., 2nd)

Jumping well, *Done Sleeping was permitted to run on the early stages, when called upon he responded and closed on *Gift of Gold at the 18th fence. He was then taken back until the final fence was approached, when he was called upon he reached *Gift of Gold at the jump and drew away in the uphill stretch drive under mild pressure. *Gift of Gold jumped well and was best of the others, and *Land's Corner, but could not improve his position in the final stages. Scratched: *Tolbiac.

THE WILMERDING MEM. CUP, abt. 2 mi., hurdles, 3 & up. Purse, $2,000. Net value to winner, $1,280; 2nd, $400; 3rd, $200; 4th, $100. Winner: ch. m. (5) by Milkman—Beaubauds, by *Gino. Trainer: W. B. Cocks. Breeder: Mrs. F. Ingalls. Time: 3:46 3-5.

1. Bab's Whey, (Mrs. F. Ingalls), 141, C. Cushman. (10-18-52, Med., brush, 2nd)
  2. Fonda, (K. F. Chandor), 133, E. Phelps. (10-25-52, R. B., hur., 5th)
  3. (Disqualified) Roman Way, (Mrs. S. C. Clark, Jr.), 148, T. Field. (9-22-52, Bel., hur., 1st)
  4. Fleur De Joie, (Emmett Roberts), 141, E. Carter. (10-25-52, R. B., hur., 1st)
  5. Sneak-Out, (C. M. Kline), 135, F. D. Adams. (10-25-52, R. B., hur., 4th)
  6. *Coup-De-Vite, (Mrs. H. Obre), 144, E. Jackson. (10-25-52, R. B., hur., 2nd)
- Bab's Whey, rated off the early pace, won under pressure, after closing on the outside, hitting two hurdles on the backstretch hard almost losing riding on one occasion. Fonda, slow in the early stages hurdled well and closed stoutly. Roman Way set most of the pace but the jockey was busy taking care of the fast-closing *Coup-De-Vite, and ignored Bab's Whey and Fonda on the outside. The latter was forced into the wing and fell but was able to hug 3 lengths in back of Bab's Whey. Roman Way was disqualified. Fleur De Joie ran a good race, but dropped back in the stretch. Scratched: *Solar Count, *Lancrel, *Spleen, Topsfield, Blandstone.

THE PEAPACK, abt. 1 1/4 mi., flat, 3 & up. Purse, $1,000. Net value to winner, $635; 2nd, $200; 3rd, $100; 4th, $50. Winner: dk. b. h. (6) by Fighting Fox—La Rose, by *Jacopo. Trainer: W. B. Cocks. Breeder: Belair Stud. Time: 2:06.

1. Brown Rover, (J. Glennon), 142, C. Cushman. (9-29-52, Bel., flat, 7th)
2. *Zill-Us-Sultan, (Arthur E. Pew, Jr.), 156, P. Smithwick. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 2nd)
3. *Queer Wednesday, (Arthur E. Pew, Jr.), 142, M. Ferral. (10-18-52, Med., brush, 1st)
4. *Sonatine, (Happy Hill Farm), 146, C. Harr. (10-11-52, Lig., hur., 5th)
5. Call Me George, (Mrs. W. C. Wright), 156, E. Phelps. (9-27-52, WmV., flat, 1st)
6. Rayquick, (C. Burton), 145, E. Washington. (9-6-52, F. H., flat, 3rd)
7. Fairy Ace, (Mrs. J. A. duPont), 142, J. Murphy. (10-18-52, Med., flat, 5th)
8. Army Power, (Mrs. F. R. White), 139, L. Moore. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 7th)
9. *Goyuca, (G. T. Weymouth), 153, Mr. E. Weymouth. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 4th)
10. Light Whip, (E. Schaffer), 132, Mr. H. Hammond. (10-25-52, R. B., flat, 14th)

Rated well, Brown Rover responded when called upon, closed on the outside and moved away from the field to finish under pressure. *Zill-Us-Sultan, although running a game race could not withstand the winner. *Queer Wednesday was used as a pace setter and held on gamely. *Sonatine was the best of the other finishers and went well. Scratched: Irish Flame, Sneak-Out, Sandy Flash, *Solar Count.

Essex Hunt Meeting

MRS. S. T. PATTERSON'S Thermion (No. 1) M. Ferral up, and J. Funkhouser's *Auftakt, D. Marzani up, taking the last jump in the Harry E. Harris hurdle race. They finished in that order and Thermion scored his first hunt meeting victory.

G. T. WEYMOUTH'S *Done Sleeping, Mr. E. Weymouth up (on the outside) and Mrs. S. T. Patterson's *Gift of Gold, F. D. Adams up, over the last jump in the N. J. Hunt Cup. It was *Done Sleeping's 5th timber success this year, and the 3rd time that *Gift of Gold has run 2nd to him.

MRS. F. INGALLS' Bab's Whey (on the outside) defeating K. F. Chandor's Fonda in the Wilmerding Memorial Cup hurdle race. C. Cushman had the mount on Bab's Whey while E. Phelps was up on Fonda (No. 8).

ARTHUR E. PEW, JR.'S *Bakshishi (No. 4) winning the Gladstone, a flat race. The grey is W. H. Frantz' Arctic Fox followed by the rest of the field of seven. This was Bakshishi's first victory at the hunt meetings and P. Smithwick was in the irons.

OVER A HURDLE in the Wilmerding Memorial Cup. (L. to r.): K. F. Chandor's Fonda, E. Phelps up; Mrs. F. Ingalls' Bab's Whey, C. Cushman; the winning combination; C. M. Kline's Sneak-Out (No. 6) F. D. Adams; Mrs. H. Obre's *Coup-de-Vite, E. Jackson; and near flag, Mrs. C. C. Clark, Jr.'s Roman Way, T. Fields up.

BREEDERS MEETING

Members of the Pennsylvania Breeders' Association had a gathering at Henry Cadwalader's home at Ambler, Pa. on October 26 to make plans for the future. The committees met to discuss their current and future problems and plans were made for a directors meeting early next month. Among the out of state visitors were G. Barker Seeley, Jr., secretary of the New Jersey Breeders' Association and Humphrey S. Finney, field secretary for the Maryland Horse Breeders' Association.

England's "Horse of the Year" Show

Miss Pat Smythe Wins Lonsdale Memorial Trophy For Third Time In Four Years

Pamela Macgregor-Morris

Held at the Harringay indoor arena in London—venue for the circus, ice shows, boxing matches and concerts—from October 8-11, since its inception in 1949, the "Horse of the Year" championship show has wound up the season in spectacular style. Harringay is now our only indoor horse show—reminiscent of the pre-war Olympia and not unlike a small-scale Madison Square Garden—and as such has an immense popularity, not only to horse lovers but to the Londoner in search of entertainment. Each of the two (afternoon and evening) sessions on the four days of the show was played to a full house, and on the last evening many hundreds of would-be spectators were disappointed to find all available seating accommodations sold out.

Although there are show classes for all categories—hunters, hacks, cobs, ponies and hackneys—of prime International interest are the jumping events, which this year brought representatives from France (Lt. Bouteiller riding Nammoon and Obeyle and M. Debled Florin riding Ariel and Chicane); Germany (Herrn W. E. von Cramm, a younger brother of the International tennis player, riding Alstergold and Fehland and Horst Herbert Alsen with Rebell and Bajola); Ireland (Col. Joe Dudgeon with Sea Lion and Sea Spray, Capt. Ian Dudgeon with Go Lightly, Miss Iny de Bromhead with Tubernagat, Col. H. M. V. Nichol with Pepper Pot—this horse and rider jumped for England in the 1948 Olympic Games—and Jack Bamber, the famous dealer from Ballymena, with his brother Dr. Maurice Bamber, who rode their own Deric and Candida and Mrs. R. G. Garland of Newry's Happy and Echo).

Spain, as at the International, was represented by Carlos Figueroa, who brought his King George V Cup winner Gracieux and his other horse El Peleon, the latter being successful with Brian Butler's Tankard (winner of the Daily Mail Championship Cup at the International) in the International Pair Relay event.

This selection of Continental horses and riders was sufficient to ensure the International flavour which is always guaranteed to provide additional interest to the jumping events.

The opening competition under F. E. I. rules was the Overture Stakes, for which there were five clear rounds. The only one to go clear again in the barrage was Curly Beard on the Hon. Dorothy Paget's Eforegiot, which was a popular win for a brilliant combination. Second was last year's winner, Col. Harry Llewellyn's Foxhunter, which was later in the week discovered to have severe corns, and is now to be given a long and well-deserved rest after his strenuous exertions of the last few years. Foxhunter's season never ends before December, and he is brought up from grass in February to get ready for the early spring shows, so that heretofore his resting period has been practically non-existent.

The Gordon Richards Stakes for a cup presented personally by the champion flat-race jockey was a timed (table C) event, and was won for the second year in succession by Seamus Hayes on Payne's Planet, who beat Carlos Figueroa (Spain) on El Peleon by a fifth of a second. Col. Llewellyn was 3rd on Monty and Lt. Bouteiller (France) 4th on Obeyle.

From a colossal entry for the "Leading Show Jumper of the Year" competition—for which horses qualified during the summer by winning £50 in prize money at affiliated shows—there were seventeen clear rounds. The barrage over a course of big fences, none of them less than 5'-0" in height, eliminated all but Seamus Hayes on Planet and Bill Hanson, M. F. H., on Snowstorm. The latter jumped a third clear round over five fences to win the competition and the title. This was a great triumph for Mr. Hanson, who in his first season's International jumping has represented England at Dublin, Brussels and Rotterdam. He bought Snowstorm—which was originally bought by Mr. Massarella out of a milk float in Rathkeale Co. Limerick, for £40—in May for what is believed to be one of the highest prices ever paid for a show jumper, in the region of £3000—£4000.

Miss Pat Smythe won the Lonsdale Memorial Trophy—and also the Diana Stakes for lady riders, on her grey mare Tosca, which came out as novice last year and this season has been the biggest winner in the country, netting over £1500 in prize money. Miss Smythe, at the age of 23, is indisputably England's leading lady rider. At the end of the show she was presented with the B. S. J. A. Spurs for the competitor gaining the greatest number of points in competitions held under B. S. J. A. rules, this being the third time in four years that she has won this award.

The Fred Foster Memorial competition was a puissance or test event, and consequently was the most thrilling of the show. Despite the size of the course there were fourteen clear rounds, and the first barrage put an end to the winning chances of all but three. Peter Robeson on Craven A (reserve for our Prix des Nations team at Helsinki) and Wilf White on Nizefela (one of our winning Helsinki team) were still intact at the third barrage over parallel poles and a red wall at 6'-4". In the fourth barrage, however, with the wall at 6'-9" Nizefela hit both fences while Craven A, which had cleared the parallel poles before also failing at the wall, emerged the winner.

Nizefela's turn, however, came on the third day of the show, when, having with four others jumped a clear round in the competition for the "Daily Telegraph" Cup, only he and Seamus Hayes on John Gilpin survived the first barrage. John Gilpin had two fences down in the final jump-off, but Nizefela achieved a third clear and there was no more popular winner at the show.

Colonel Harry Llewellyn and Monty, who had won the Doubles and Trebles event over combination fences on the second day, pulled off a double when they won the "Country Life" Cup, another speed—table C—competition. Monty must be unique among the British horses for the precision he maintains at speed when on form, and his round was particularly spectacular in that, despite a seven-second penalty for a knockdown, he still beat his nearest rival, Maj. Geoffrey Gibbon on Saidra, who jumped a clear round, by 3-5 second.

The Victor Ludorum International Championship for the "Daily Graphic" Cup was jumped in two rounds—the first over a medium sized course, the second over what was in point of fact a modified puissance course. Red Star (Alan Oliver), Craven A (Peter Robeson), Costa (Donald Beard), Monty (Col. Llewellyn) and Eforegiot (Curly Beard) were clear in the first round, and the first three were clear again in the second. In the timed barrage, however, though these remaining contestants were all clear a third time, the winner on time was Peter Robeson's Craven A, which thus won the two big competitions of the show. This mare is a phenomenal jumper—she was bred from a Shire (cart) mare by the mare's Half-bred son when he was still an uncut colt, and though no breeding could be more unorthodox or unintentional Craven A is one of those felicitous "mistakes" which makes the breeding of horses such a fascinating hobby and ruinous business.

The Harringay Spurs, for the competitor gaining the most points in F. E. I. competitions at the show, were won jointly by Col. Harry Llewellyn and Seamus Hayes.

One of the most interesting features of the show was the—Quadrille performed by four horses and riders of the Vornholz Stud, owned by Freiherr C. von Nagel—Doornick. Ridden by Baroness Ida von Nagel (sister of the present owner of the Stud, which was founded in 1666 and where all the horses were bred and schooled) and Herren Otto Lorke (aged 72, who attained fame in the German cavalry), Willi Schultheis (biggest winner in German competitive dressage) and F. Thiedemann, (who won an Olympic bronze medal at Helsinki in both the dressage and the Prix des Nations,) the horses Pernod, Chronist, Adular and Afrika were team and reserve for the Grand Prix de dressage at Helsinki.

By way of contrast, the other display was a musical drive by four teams of heavy horses—Shires, Clydesdales, Percherons and Suffolks—drawing harrows. Their drivers were dressed in olde-Englische peasant style, and the horses were magnificent specimens of their breeds, all of them well-known show ring winners.

Final display was a parade—"The Horse—Personalities 1952". Led by Wavell, the grey outrider who has led every important Royal procession since 1946, it included Bonaparte, the piebald drum horse of the Life Guards, with two state trumpeters on greys; Winston, the chestnut police horse which has carried Her Majesty at the Trooping the Colour ceremonies for the last two years; Teal, this year's Grand National winner; Mighty Atom and Pretty Polly, respectively champion hunter and champion pony of England; Emily Little, Capt. M. A. Q. Darley's Badminton Olympic Trials winner; Rosina Copper, the 32-year-old ex-International polo pony which has collected over £800 for the Olympic Games and International Equestrian Fund; Lady Wentworth's Arab mare Shade of Night with her twin foals, believed to be unique among Arabs; and three working pit ponies.

So ended the "Horse of the Year" show, and with it the English season for 1952.

Armory Riding School

In spite of a larger show being held in the same section and the fact that one of the top football games of the season was being played, this show drew a large attendance.

The headline class was the highlight of the morning session. The event was well filled and one youngster garnered the attention of all when she announced, "I don't want that ribbon (yellow), I want the pink!"

21st Annual Fort Wayne

This show is one of the prettiest you will find anywhere in the country. It is held on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. John Berghoff and the dirt ring has grass in the center while the outside course is dotted with lovely old trees. The whole place is surrounded by hills so a spectator can see everything.

They always have lots of hunter entries even if they do not have divisions for the hunters. Mrs. Louis Schwitzer, Jr.'s Strawberry Fox chalked up two winning outings along with two seconds. A close runner-up was Miss Kay McLaughlin's Boy Charming which annexed two blues, including the stake event.

Dick Fruehauf had his good going pair there to win the pair class and a number of other ribbons. Miss Katie Kolb was a new comer to Fort Wayne and carried off her share by winning the large working class and the two horsemanship hunter seat classes.

Gray Horse Farm

With some invaluable volunteer help, the show managed to go on. The fact that there were 27 entries in the equitation class in which they show over a prescribed routine one at a time, got things a bit behind time and though the show was 1 1/2 hours late by lunch Sunday, it managed to finish on schedule. Texas Junior riders were out in full force with so many top performances it must have been a most trying task to judge their events.

This year's equitation class was a memorial to Miss Ann McHale, the young rider who was killed this spring while schooling and who had been a camper at the Gray Horse Farm for two years. Miss Terry Jo Cocke won this class to maintain her commanding lead for the yearling junior championship award for the state. The eventual junior champion of the show was Merrick Coates. There were three tied for reserve honors and after a hack off, Miss Mary Kay McFarland came out on top.

The working division was awfully close for the second straight circuit show, and it came out the same way as the last show did. Brownwood, owned and ridden by Miss Sally Myer, was the champion and in for reserve was Tally-Ho, owned and ridden by Mrs. Whitney Donaldson. This latter combination also won the Grimes memorial perpetual trophy for the second straight time.

Two completely new champions turned up in the open division and both were ridden by a most capable youngster, Miss Janet Allison who is only 14. The champion was Daddy Bill of the Parish Stables and reserve was stablemate Moonshine. This was Daddy Bill's first show in open classes. The Gray Horse Farm challenge cup was won by Dick Dyke. This trophy has been in competition for five years and has not been won by the same person twice.

Colonel, owned and ridden by Miss Cynthia Brants, was a repeat champion in the conformation ranks. He occupied that niche two years ago. Reserve honors went to Miss Terry Jo Cocke's owner-ridden Verdina Girl.

The show was judged under F. E. I. Rules as it has been for all five years, and this year a modified dressage class was included for the first time. There were 6 entries and though the performances were hardly top dressage, they showed some very well trained horses. The winning performance by the junior rider, Miss Linda Davis, on her own Reveille, was really quite nice. She will have the distinction of being the first blue ribbon winner for dressage in Texas when the interest in this phase of horse training grows, as it surely will. It is planned to have this event next year with an increasingly difficult routine.

Junior Horse Show

The Eglington Branch of the Pony Club is the largest on the continent and a very active one with several sub branches. Headquarters for one of these sub branches, Glenorchy

Farm, York Mills near Toronto's north city limits, was the site of the show on October 18. Events were conditioned to favor the Glenorchy group but were not confined to them. The Glenorchy horses, most of which are owned by the Taylor Statten Camps and are on loan to the Pony Club for all but three of the summer months, were prominent in all events.

Miss Benita Sanders won two events, the Bladen trophy for beginner's jumping and also maiden equitation over jumps, riding Lee, a gift horse presented to the Pony Club by Leslie Ehrlick, one of Toronto's horse van owners. Unbroken and a 2-year-old when the Pony Club got him, Lee, though not handsome, is turning into a most useful horse.

Another double winner was Miss Vicki Robertson, a former member of the Halifax Pony Club who now resides in Toronto. Vicki won the pleasure hack on Gay Girl and rode her own pony, Staar of Arabia to win the pony pleasure hack. Staar of Arabia, which is half-Arab, was brought from Nova Scotia by the Robertsons.

Second Michigan International

The 2nd annual Michigan International Horse Show drew quite a few more hunter entries but the number of open jumpers was less. The lack of jumpers was partially due to two well known riders being grounded. John Wallace was there on crutches, due to a knee operation. He ably assisted the ring crew in setting up the jumps. Max Bonham had two falls during the show, the second putting him out of commission for a week. However, he was lucky in that no bones were broken.

St Jayne's Lady Gordon was the most consistent hunter, being both conformation and working champion. Miss Susie Lucenti's Out To Sea was reserve working and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fruehauf, Jr.'s new hunter, Master Key, was reserve conformation. All the hunters showed in both the working and conformation events. With only one green hunter class, Mrs. Louis Schwitzer, Jr.'s Strawberry Fox won that event and the 4-year-old went into the well over 4'-0" classes. He chalked up a winning outing in open hunters.

The open classes had a new comer in W. Joseph Edwards' stable from Whitley, Ontario, Canada. Bob Sloan does his training and riding but Mr. Edwards gets in the saddle sometimes. Their Big Bounce was reserve champion to St Jayne's good paint, Night Raider.

Two events were scheduled for the hunter seat equitation and this proved to be a clean sweep for Miss Ann Jensen, the young lady annexing both blues.

Pacific International

Capacity crowds at each performance proved the Northwest was more than pleased with the return of the horse show to the annual Pacific International Livestock Exposition. Last year an historical pageant took the place of the horse show and turned out to be most unpopular.

Highlight of this year's show was an outstanding precision drill put on by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, whose snappy red coated members on their black mounts drew thunderous applause at the execution of almost every maneuver.

Hunters and jumpers also received a goodly share of enthusiastic support from the spectators and proved to the management they could hustle in and out of the ring with the best of them. This being the last point show on the Associated Hunt Clubs of Oregon calendar, the annual Oregon championships were presented at the close of the show. High point jumper was Charcoal, owned by the Highlands School of Riding and ridden during the season by Mrs. I. M. Johnson in some classes and in others by G. E. Smith. Charcoal, always a popular winner with the spectators, made a clean sweep of this show by winning the blue in every one of his five classes. The 1952 Oregon hunter championship went to Harold Hirsch's Scrap Iron, ridden throughout most of the season by Miss Barbara Russell.

Pennsylvania National

The great Pennsylvania National Horse Show held at Harrisburg, Pa., rang down its final curtain on November 1st after a week of intense and keen competition between horses and riders from all over the U. S., Mexico, Canada, Ireland, and France.

The ever popular international competition offered was keener this year and horses, as well as riders, seemed to be in the best condition seen at this horse show in several years. The U. S. Horse Show Team captained by Arthur McCashin and ably assisted by Mrs. Carol Durand and William Steinkraus, won the international low score competition for the Maj. Gen. M. G. Baker Trophy for the third time and retired it—just nosing out the brilliant Mexican Team, which also had two legs on the Trophy.

Our own U. S. Team individual outstanding performance was made by William Steinkraus riding our internationally famous Democrat to brilliantly win the Maj. G. V. Henry Trophy for individual open jumping.

Welcomed to this country for the first time in several years was the French Army Horse Show Team. Outstanding in the week of competition was the magnificent win of M. Pierre d'Oriola on his spectacularly fast and accurate jumper Ali Baba, to win the international individual jumping championship for the Gov. Challenge Trophy after a hard fought and brilliant jump off with Arthur McCashin on the U. S. horse Tortilla.

The hard riding and popular Mexican Team won more individual honors with Capt. Victor M. Carrillo on his bold little Resorte II, winning both the international jumping preliminary for the Maj. Gen. H. M. Groninger Trophy and the international jumping competition fault and out.

With his usual able and spectacular riding Gen. Humberto Mariles on Chihuahua beautifully timed and won the Penn. State Police Trophy for fault and out, taking 14 fences in 2 minutes. Also the brilliant Mexican Team won for the third time the international challenge trophy for the President's Perpetual Trophy with three outstanding performances.

To the American people Col. Dan Corey of the Irish Horse Show Team is ever popular and one whom the old timers like to see win—having ridden in this country in international competition for so many years. He and his teammates were stiff contenders and 2nd several times in hard fought classes.

Our Canadian competitors, who are well known and liked by the American horse show audiences, put up a brilliant effort the entire week to place high in competition. I believe that the international classes were more keenly enjoyed this year, due to the expert arrangement of the courses put up by the management.

One of the largest and most beautiful classes of the show, was the magnificent green hunter division which filled the arena with quality and quantity. The 4-year-old roan gelding, Spanish Mint, owned by Mrs. J. Deane Rucker, completely dominated the young hunters with 6 well-deserved wins, gaining the R. S. Shoemaker Challenge Trophy for green hunters with 27 1-2 points. Reserve in this division was Mrs. Louis Schwitzer, Jr.'s nice going Strawberry Fox, with 9 1-2 points.

Spanish Mint is one of those nice combinations of conformation, ability and manners. Many beautiful, young, and green hunters, however, placed throughout this division.

W. J. Brewsters' well-known conformation hunter, My Bill, performed beautifully under the expert guidance of Jack Goodwin to rule the conformation hunters with 4 magnificent wins and to take home the championship. My Bill garnered 23 1-2 points over Mrs. L. J. Knowles' smooth performing Forward Passer, nicely ridden by Miss Barbara Pease to reserve championship with 16 1-2 points.

The working hunter division has become full of horses, who put up round after round in faultless perfection. There are many great horses in eastern competition sired by the late great little horse Timber Boy and in the beautiful Harrisburg arena—3 of them performed faultlessly to gain the winner's circle and dominated the working hunters division by winning championship and reserve.

Outstanding in consistency was Kimberton Hills Farm's Kimberling so ably ridden by Mrs. William Loeffler—better known to the horse world as Betty Mills—who is responsible for the training and showing of this lovely horse.

Reserve in this division was Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McKinnon's Tarad, which was bred by Ted Baldwin. During his horse show career, Tarad has been schooled and shown successfully by Jiggs and his sister Miss Betty Jane Baldwin.

Almost everyone at the Pennsylvania National, was happy to see the courageous, brilliant and outstanding open jumper All Afire, so well conditioned and ridden by that master horseman Pat Dixon, win a third leg and retire the Jumper Championship Pennsylvania Hotel Challenge Trophy. This fine combination dominated the open jumping classes and certainly deserved this high honor.

Besides being a great jumper, All Afire gains the admiration of his audience with his regal manner while putting up his consistent and great performance. It is unusual in open jumping competition that one horse can retire a challenge trophy of this type and Pat Dixon is to be congratulated on his fine riding.

Spectacular in the arena was Millard arms Injun Joe, also ably ridden by Pat Dixon to win the reserve honors.

The Pennsylvania National is becoming one of the most popular horse shows in America, due to the magnificent facilities, the beautifully laid out courses, the able management and a feeling of welcome and comradeship extended to all participants each year. Thus the show draws more horses from far corners of our country and so at this great show, it is an honor and a thrill to be a winner.

Toronto Junior Fall

The usual flock of youngsters and horses were on hand for this annual event. For once fine weather was on hand as usual the fall show has had too unpleasant weather to make the event enjoyable for any but the most hardy.

Classes were held on the property of the Eglington Hunt at Todmorden and there were good facilities in the large ring as well as a top outside hunter course.

Luthur Winchell II had the best success, winning two events and the championship with his new Thoroughbred, Magic Melody.

There were lots of new riders and quite a few new horses. One combination which was especially pleasing was Miss Suzanne Talbot-Ponsonby, a little English girl, and her small brown mare, Elizabeth A. This little girl has had the 4-year-old mare for 9 months; she came off the track and has been schooled by her young owner.

Valley Forge

The J. D. McKinnons' well known Tarad, ridden by Jiggs Baldwin, made a clean sweep of the hunter classes at this show which included a second leg on the Philander Knox handy hunter challenge trophy and the hunter tri-color.

Reserve to him was Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Biddle's Cottage Den, ridden by 13-year-old Miss Susan Metz. Cottage Den picked up points in all the open classes and in several of the green events. He also gained a leg on the Valley Forge challenge trophy for children's hunters.

The James R. Tindle memorial challenge trophy for best young horse went to Fox Valley Farm's Sandrock, with stablemate Village Echo pinned reserve.

Toward the end of the day several of the courses had to be shortened as the light was fading fast. The show ring is set in a natural amphitheater and in most of the classes, the horses crossed Valley Creek twice. Such a scenic spot is not only a test of a good hunter but also provides an excellent grandstand for the spectators.

HUNTER TRIALS

Snowy Day Hunter Champion At Oaks Hunt Hunter Trials

The Oaks Hunt Hunter Trials differ from the average in several respects. Firstly, they are open to non-members and secondly, they have a complete division for open jumpers. It was the visitors who took home a lion's share of the ribbons from the hunter classes, while a hunt member's horses accounted for both the championship and reserve in the jumper section.

The hilly course proved to be a stiff challenge for all and no one horse would be considered predominant. As a matter of fact, each of the full credit classes was won by a different horse. In addition to winning the lightweight, Snowy Day, owned by Mrs. Frank Fox, and long absent from the show ring, accounted for two fourths, which was enough to assure him the tri-color. He was ridden throughout the trials by Miss Althea Knickerbocker, daughter of the former Master of the Oaks. Quite a scramble for reserve resulted when four horses tied with 5 points each. After due consideration, the award was given Mystery Stables' well-mannered New Ground, ridden by Ralph Petersen. He was pinned ahead of Mitchell Klup's steady going Buckingham, Timber Top Stables' bold moving Jumping Jimmy, ridden by Lloyd Horton, and Pierre Dauvergne's versatile paris, ridden by his owner.

The open jumper classes were evenly divided as far as blues were concerned, between the horses of the indefatigable Mr. Dauvergne and Miss Mary McGowan. Each had two to his credit. However, Mr. Dauvergne rode his Versailles to the top award in both instances, while Miss McGowan's blues were provided by I Wonder and the always sensational pony, Little Wonder. In spite of the wins, the McGowan horses, ridden by their owner and Sonny Brooks, did not figure in the championship awards. Mr. Dauvergne went home with both tri-colors, thanks to Versailles and his stablemate, Saumur, which had three seconds and a 4th to his credit.

The children's championship was unusual in that both horsemanship and hunter classes were counted. Champion by a wide margin was Miss Fiona Field and Caumsett Farm's Princess Bibi. There was a tie for reserve and rather than go into complications of how it should be judged, the committee gave an award to both Miss Francis Stewart, who rode her own Tango, and Miss Sara Ann Cavanagh who rode Cavote Farms' Zee King.

Waterloo Hunt Club's Hunter Trials Award Won By Miss McNeil II

Each year, after the show season is finished in Michigan, everyone points his horse for the Waterloo Hunt Club's annual hunter trials. These trials were held this year at the club grounds at Jackson, Mich. on October 4.

Individual honors went to Miss Katie Kolb when she won the finals of the Michigan Hunt's Junior Challenge Trophy. The judge, Ben Colman, liked P. T. Cheff's Vagabond and awarded him the blue and the Parkway Memorial trophy class.

Fred Boudeman won the lion's share of the classes with his good going bay mare, Miss McNeill II to become the hunter champion of the show.

Twinkle Champion of 5th Annual Oak Brook Hounds Hunter Trials

Something had been added to the course for the 5th annual hunter trials of the Oak Brook Hounds. This usually fine 1-1.8 mile course around a lake—a sporting one to ride and with perfect visibility for spectators—has been described before. This year, post and rail fences were added on each side of the sunken road—66 feet apart—leaving a short landing and a short take-off. Also, the water ditch was a little wider. It is truly a hunting course—representing typical obstacles encountered in the local hunt country, with no "horse show" jumps.

The effects of making the course a bit more difficult were: fewer clean performances, an easier job for the judge, a glow of satisfaction for all who had a good round, many to sympathize with those who didn't, and a few spills.

The championship was won by Twinkle, owned and ridden by Mrs. Jane K. Cobb. This 16.2 dark bay mare, a Canadian lightweight hunter was a close contender for the championship last year.

Camargo Hunt Has Large Number of Entries In Trials

Honors were pretty evenly divided between ladies and gentlemen at the Camargo Hunter Trials, but it took the Army to keep the gentlemen in the running. Of the 46 ribbons awarded in the jumping events, 26 went to horses owned by ladies and 20 to horses owned by gentlemen, but, of the 20, three were taken by a retired Colonel's 3-year-old. The 46 be-ribboned hunters were ridden by 22 ladies and 24 gentlemen. Six of the latter, however, were officers of the U. S. Army.

Outstanding hunters were Mrs. Warner L. Atkins' Erased Error and Susie's Error, Colonel T. J. Johnson's Thomas J. and High Hopes, owned by Mrs. Philip J. Schneider.

By all odds the 12th annual hunter trials were the finest in every way. To begin with, it was nearly perfect, weatherwise, and had there been as much spring in the turf as there was in the air, the horses would have agreed with the exhibitors and the 500 spectators that the setting was ideal for coursing. More hunters, Camargo and out of town, were entered than in any previous trials. Most of them performed exceedingly well. The classes were called without delay.

Lt. Col. Robert L. Robertson and Major Jonathan Burton, the judges, were obviously such experts that even those who differed with their decisions could only do so mildly. Later, at Mr. and Mrs. Atkins' open house, the two officers gave opinions almost as detailed as a Supreme Court Justice's to reinforce some of their decisions. After the opinions had been delivered, even those exhibitors who had previously disagreed, were convinced.

The Joint-Masters, O. De Gray Vanderbilt, Jr. and Leonard S. Smith, Jr. did not compete. Mr. Vanderbilt took the fox hunters class on an abbreviated run behind hounds but he was not in competition. Mrs. Mary C. Stephenson was forced, through a slight indisposition this year, to watch her horses instead of riding them in the classes. Her daughter, Mrs. George R. Drew represented her mother very well.

Miss Nonnie Steer was perhaps the outstanding performer among the junior riders at the trials. David Martinet was another junior who demonstrated for the edification of his elders how to ride before judges.

The hunt ball that followed the trials was, of course, denied the juniors, but when the Field assembled the next morning at Mr. Vanderbilt's, the juniors heard the seniors say, "Best ball ever. Just like the trials."

THE CHRONICLE

Here Today Captures Top Honors of Hunter Trials At Fairfield

The Fairfield County Hunter Trials were held on the estate of Mrs. Barbara Taylor in Southport, Conn. Tiny 14-year-old Miss Sandy Glynn, riding her parents' lovely going brown mare, Here Today, won four classes and the championship. Reserve honors went to Fairfield's Joint-Master, Miss Jean Cochrane who rode her grey gelding, Hunter.

A new type class was offered this year for the first time. It was a novelty point class which I understand is very popular at horse shows and hunter trials in England. The course consisted of six fences, numbered from 5 to 10 respectively. Each contestant was given 1-2 minutes to go as he pleased to see how many points he could accumulate in that time; the only limitation being that each fence could be jumped only twice—once in each direction. The class was won by Mrs. A. F. Parrot's Flag Star with Emerson Burr riding, followed by Miss Cochrane on Hunter.

Everyone was happy to see such a large number of entries in the two junior events. The Shamrock Memorial Challenge Trophy, for children's hunters, was won by Here Today and the pony class blue went to Miss Bessie Buckley riding her bay mare, Kitten. The smallest entry of the day was in the latter event. A tiny Shetland pony, owned by Emerson Burr and ridden by Miss Dede Drake, annexed the 3rd ribbon with the full support of all spectators present.

GOLDENS BRIDGE HOUNDS

Rock Ridge Farm,
North Salem,
New York.
Established 1924.
Recognized 1925.

September 1

Hounds and a Field of 42 met for the initial Cubbing Meet at the Horse Show Grounds on Baxter Road. We drew over the open fields on Anson Lobdell's Farm and on to June Farm until we reached Whelpley's Jump, named that because of a nearly fatal jump and accident to Mr. Whelpley. We heard crows marking a fox near Billy Meldrum's cornfield and by this time, hounds had picked up the line and the old familiar American foxhound cry had become a wonderful volume of music. As they emerged from the cornfield, two nice big Reds were running about fifty yards apart in front of the pack. One swung to the right and was marked in the old rocky ledge on the farm of Miss Mary Thomas. A second fox was found on the Lobdell Farm and after about 40 minutes, was marked in near the starting point. A third fox found near Red Shield Farm was marked in near the starting point. After 30 minutes of wonderful hound work, only one young hound was out and the pack worked like they had been hunting for months.

September 4

Hounds again met at the Horse Show Grounds and as this was a special day for the Juniors, many of the future foxhunters were out. We drew north of the new Kennels towards Peach Lake and hounds opened up within two minutes after moving off. They circled over Meadow Lane, Dr. Nichols' place and back over the upper end of Von Gal's swamp. After about 40 minutes, hounds marked their fox in on Charles Nichols' Farm. A second fox found in the upper end of Rock Ridge Farm and after about 30 minutes was marked in on the Misses Lobdell's farm where we have marked in foxes for the last twenty-five years.

We drew over to Red Shield swamp, a great place to find. This property was recently purchased by Miss Mary Thomas from Wayne Huson. Again we were off and after a nice 30 minutes, we called off. As our fox was headed for Hunting House Hill which is ordinarily an all day jaunt, and as it was becoming quite warm, we decided it was asking too much for our second day out.

September 6

Again we met at the Horse Show Grounds which is at the site of our new Kennels. It was quite foggy so we hacked out Baxter Road and cast in back of Laurence Parish's house and found near where we had found on Monday. After about 45 minutes around Battery Farm woods and Salem Center, we marked in an old den on Billy Meldrum's property. At this point we could hear crows marking a fox as it was running a stone-wall along Meldrum's meadow. Hounds were taken to the spot and as they opened up and swept out the upper end of swamp, two nice red cubs were in front of the pack. After a circle and back over Hardscrabble Road, one big red was right in front of the pack by about one hundred yards, headed towards Salem Center and after marking this one in on the farm of Miss Mary Thomas, we decided to call it a day to enable a few of the Field to attend the races at Fair Hill.

September 9

A very large Field met at 6:30 A. M. at the Horse Show Grounds. We drew east of the Kennels back over Meadow Lane and on over the former David Vail Farm and in the old rocky meadow, where hounds picked up a good line. To the uninitiated, it sounded like a running fox but it was a good old night trail. Hounds worked north over Clayton Nichols' place and as we waited on the west side of the swamp, we viewed a very large red breaking covert and headed towards Von Gal's but this was not the running fox and we could see the pack racing the hill far to the north and running in full cry, then heading west. We caught up with them as they crossed the chicken coop jump and on over to Route 124 where we ran head on to our pilot sitting on the highway listening to hounds approaching in full cry. The fox spotted us and doubled back and went down Hardscrabble Road, swinging left and after quite a circle, doubled back over 124, a concrete road and was marked in on the Bloomer property. A really good straightaway run for so early in the season.

A second fox was found near the old den off Starr Ridge and after a short but very musical run, was marked in a den in a blueberry patch. We cast again in a field in front of Mrs. E. T. Teft's home and as we were approaching the Barway, 3 nice deer walked out in front of the pack. They all had a good look at one another so with no yelling, whipping or tooting of the horn, we just retraced our steps and headed for the Kennels. It looks as if we started in where we had left off during the last three seasons as far as the deer are concerned as the country is full of deer.

September 11

This was the second scheduled Junior Meet. We drew over June Farm and on to Battery Farm where three foxes broke in front of the pack. We ran north to Meldrum's cornfield where about three couple swung left and the main pack circled to the right over the farms of Miss Thomas and Rock Ridge and on back by Salem Center. After about one hour one fox was marked in under a stonewall on Battery Farm. About one hundred yards to the right, hounds picked up a good line and after working on top of stonewalls for about 5 minutes, we jumped another good fox out of Raymond's swamp that gave us another 55 minutes before he dropped in the woodland near Anson Lobdell's place on Rock Ridge Farm.

September 13

Another good Field met at Rock Ridge Farm, the first meet away from the Kennels at the Horse Show grounds. We drew blank around Windswept but as hounds were drawing through a small woodland on Charles Wallace's property, a big red was viewed streaking over the meadows. Hounds were quickly put on line but the fox ran one field and marked in Meldrum's meadow. Hounds were cast in the next swamp and found at once. This one led over near Drs. Dunning and Wilmot's place along DeLancey Road, over east to Route 124 and after about 40 minutes was marked in an old den on Charles Wallace's woods. A third fox found on the Wallace Farm and ran on over the Windswept section north to Hardscrabble where pack split. We could hear Mrs. Max Williams sound her car horn as she viewed a big red crossing the concrete road. We stopped part of the pack and harked them to the fox just viewed. After circling the Bloomer place, they ran fast to Red Shield Farm and marked in under a fallen tree near Hardscrabble.

September 16

Met at Starr Ridge Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Miller. We hacked down the dirt road and cast in north to the pine-woods where hounds found at once.

For about 35 minutes they really rang up the countryside with a wonderful volume of cry, at one time running right over Royal Richards lawn and finally marked in on a creek bank near the starting point. At about the same time, we heard a "halloo" off to the west where a red was viewed running via Gene Rior-dan's Stable. Hounds were harked to the line and again we were away on a good run around Starr Ridge and Peach Lake, crossing Starr Ridge Road and over Star Lea and straightened out and ran almost into the Village of Brewster. After over an hour's run, he dropped in on the former Storm property.

September 18

Met at the Horse Show Grounds and as this was the last of the Junior Hunts, each Junior was permitted to act as M. F. H. We found in the upper end of the former David Vail Farm and ran by Dr. Nichols', on over Bloomer's and the Rock Ridge section. We crossed the concrete Road, 124, to Red Shield, swinging south over Hardscrabble back over Starr Ridge and marked in back on the Lobdell woodland in a rocky ledge where we have marked in many a fox.

September 20

Horse Show Grounds: From here, we drew south over June Farm and crossed the road to Daniel Raymond's place and into the pinewoods where the pack opened up in full cry and were away to the north over Rock Ridge and Miss Mary Thomas' Farm. For the first time this season, we marked in the old cave den in Billy Meldrum's meadow where the entire pack can disappear under ground. We were all glad for a short breather as we were waiting for hounds to come out of the cave.

We could hear crows marking a fox leaving the upper end of swamp in the same meadow, so we worked towards the ever vigilant crow call, and sure enough, we were off again and this proved a good run, on via Peach Lake over via Meadow Lane and after a short loss, where fox ran the concrete road. We crossed back with great drive and cry through Von Gal's swamp over the old Sheep Hill on Rock Ridge, back over Meldrum's and Wallace's property and marked in on an open hillside on the farm of Miss Mary Thomas.

September 23

Met at Dongle Ridge. A light rain was falling as we moved off east towards the Connecticut State line. We found in the William Bates woodland and this fox was quickly marked to ground. On the same farm we found our second fox in pasture land near Stuart Bates house, and after several circles in the big swamp near Johnston's Peach Lake Hotel, it was driven out in the open. We ran this fox for almost an hour and a half around Dongle Ridge and as it was raining heavily, we finally had a chance to call off.

September 25

Horse Show Grounds: From here, we drew over June Farm on to Raymond's pinewoods where hounds jumped a big red cub, and ran fast for about 25 minutes and marked in a rocky ledge on Rock Ridge Farm near Anson Lobdell's place.

A second fox was viewed leaving Charles Wallace's swamp. The pack then swept south over the nice open country via Windswept and for exactly 2 hours, hounds ran without a check. It would have been impossible to stay with hounds except for a bit of hill-topping where we had many views of Reynard a short distance in front of the pack. As he left the small wooded knoll near Hardscrabble, he seemed very tired but he had enough run left to reach a safe earth in Billy Meldrum's cornfield with all 20 couples in at the finish. This was one of the best runs we have had during cubbing.

September 27

Met at Arigideen, the home of Joint-M. F. H. Daniel M. McKeon. We found soon after moving off in a very bushy and rough section. Hounds ran well and killed in a real thicket. Our second fox found near pinewoods on 8-Bells Farm and gave us a nice circling hunt, and after running over the Dingle Ridge and Merry Woods section for over an hour, was marked in the old den in the pinewoods. This was a very good morning and dry in the woods which gave us an opportunity to enjoy more real hound work but not so fast as our Thursday run. We were out 4 1-2 hours and had to reserve some of our energy for the Harvest Dance which was attended by many of the Landowners over whose land we are privileged to enjoy such great sport.

September 30

Met at Grant's Corners, once the home of President Ulysses S. Grant, with quite a large Field turning out. We cast blank over the Grant and Purdy Farms. After fording Titicus River, we found on the Raymond Farm where hounds opened up in a great burst. They ran very fast for about 55 minutes and marked their fox in along the brook on Battery Farm. This was an exceptionally fast run with the temperature above 70 degrees. As hounds tried desperately to dig out their pilot and the horses were in a white lather, we decided to call it an early day and hacked back to the Kennels so as to get hounds ready for the opening meet four days hence.

October 2

Met at Tartarin Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. L. Ryan on the North Salem Ridgefield, Conn. Road. We cast in the swamp on the William Bates Farm. As Bachelor, Bouncer and Lady opened on a line, the rain came down in torrents so we huddled under a maple tree that was in full foliage to keep dry. We remained there for about 15 minutes, though several of the not so die-hards headed for home. As we jumped a wall towards Dongle Ridge, a very large doe dashed right through the pack. A few of the puppies opened up but with one command of "leave it", every hound stopped and watched the white flag bounce away to the east. Not a whip was cracked — As nearly a perfect deer proof pack as you will find in America.

After crossing Dongle Ridge, hounds found a huge red near Mrs. Bulkley's pond and after about 40 minutes, marked him in on the William Bates woodland in an old earth under a fallen tree. A second fox found on a high hilltop on the John Wheeler Farm. Hounds fairly streamed in full cry on north over Spring Valley and marked in near the Murdock home, just west of the N. Y.-Conn. State line. This old den was very shallow and these good old American hounds could dig down between the two entrances to the earth and I am quite sure if we had not called them away, they would have dug out our pilot and killed a good red.

MEADOW BROOK HOUNDS

Syosset, Long Island, New York.
Established 1877.
Recognized 1894.
Operated by Meadow Brook Club, Westbury, Long Island, about 9 miles from kennels.

The Meadow Brook Hounds opened their cub hunting season on September 17, when a field of thirty met at Froelich's farm entrance at 7 o'clock. It was very warm and scent was poor as hounds worked first one and then another fox westward through Broad Hollow. Finally we crossed the Wheatley Road into Whitney's where hounds jumped a fox which ran due west to Smith's wire fences, then right-handed through Guest's and back into Whitney's where hounds lost after a very fast 15 minutes.

Saturday, the 20th, hounds met at Brewster's Stables and again it was very warm. We ran one fox in a right handed circle through Coe's woods and to ground in Iselins after 20 minutes.

A field of 24 were present on Wednesday, the 24th, for the meet at Sir Ashley Sparks' farm barns. A fox was found immediately which ran straight to 25A where he was turned by cars. He was viewed in Cushman's but was lost almost immediately afterwards, in the laurels south of Hardins' Stable. The second and best run of the day came after crossing 25A when hounds started a fox east of Schiff's pasture. He ran north and then west along the hills south of Roosevelt's grave, turned south at Schiff's tower, across Schiff's paddocks and was marked to ground in Coe's briar patch after 25 minutes.

On Saturday, September 27, a field of 30 met at the Old Kennels at 7 o'clock, but it was not until after 10 when all but 7 "die-hards" had gone in, that we had any sport. Hounds jumped their fox in Broad Hollow and ran him hard and with full cry, punctuated by Bashful's high squeeks, in a large left-handed loop south to the old point-to-point course, back into Roditti's field and at last to ground between Roditti's and Clark's field after 20 minutes.

Wednesday, October 1st, dawned warm and dry. We met at J. J. McDonald's and after drawing Jones' woods blank we crossed the road into Spark's where hounds jumped a brace of fox. The pack split and the first fox was marked to ground in the laurels south of Hardin's while the 2nd ran south-east toward Columbia Stock Farm, where hounds lost.

Our first fox, which we got up in Brewster's woods, immediately after we left the meet at Shoter's on Saturday, October 4, ran north to 25A where he was killed on the road by a trailer truck as he tried to cross into Brokaw's. A second fox was started in Francke's. He never got properly away from hounds after he broke covert and was killed after 10 minutes in the light well outside the cellar window of the E. S. Wiss house on Flintledge Road. We hacked through Woodward's and Blisses', across the Wheatley Road and found our 3rd fox in Hickox' west of the power line. He ran down the main path in Hutton's to Whitney Lane, where he was viewed right-handed across Whitney's Angus paddocks and entered the woods. There the line was confused by another fox and the pack split, working both lines slowly for 20 minutes after which hounds were whipped off, scent having failed.

On Wednesday, October 8, we met at John Schiff's farm barns. Our first fox ran in left-handed loops twice around Schiff's paddocks and to ground after 30 minutes. We crossed 25A and found a fox in Spark's which hounds ran in circles through Spark's wood. George Hudson viewed him trying to cross 25A, where he was turned by cars. Hounds were whipped off after an hour.

Saturday, October 11, was warm again and we met at Wigmore's and had a poor day except for a short run of 10 minutes in Whitney's woods.

Columbus Day was a different story, however, when hounds met at Ather-ton's. We drew through the Piping Rock show grounds and started a fox north of Merrill's which ran east across Chicken Valley Road through Coe's woods, into Iselins' briar patch and south along Wolvey Hollow Road until he was turned by a development. He doubled back across Coe's fields through the burned out woods near Davison's and finally to ground in a

New Showing System Tried At Genesee Valley Hunter Trials

Hunter trials at the Mulligan Farm means a good show. This year's trials were no exception. An excellent day, plenty of good competition and a surprising number of really interested spectators were on hand.

The method of showing horses this year was completely different. Groups of three went out over the course, each had a chance to lead and each was put in the last position. This system gave the judges a chance to see what horses went best under a more typical hunting situation, horses that might have behaved beautifully while alone were given a more severe test being shown in this fashion.

The most spectacular class was hunter pairs—the winners, Franz Stone and Miss Elizabeth Ginter looked like something out of a painting as they came over the last jump in perfect unison.

drain on Coe's driveway after a good 50 minutes.

On Saturday, October 18, we had our finest day of cubbing with an abundance of foxes. Hounds were being hacked to the meet at Winthrop's and just as they approached the farm barns they started on the line of a fox that had just crossed their path two minutes before. With five of us after them, they ran like smoke to the Winthrop race track where we were more or less able to whip hounds off long enough for the rest of the field to mount and get up to us. Hounds picked up the line again without difficulty and ran their fox south of Clark's field, through Broad Hollow to earth on Roditti's ridge after 15 minutes. A second fox was jumped immediately and run to Roditti's orchard where hounds lost. We hacked to Whitney's stable where we met Jack Coleman, who said that there was a fox lying out sunning himself in one of the west pastures. Sure enough when hounds were taken up there was a fox lying out in a field enclosed by wire, but before hounds could be put on the line a cub jumped up in front of them, which gave us a fast 15 minutes through Whitney's woods to a drain in Garvan's driveway. Hounds were brought back to try to find our "sunbathing" fox and hit the line in Goadby Loew's resulting in a circling hunt through Garvan's to Guest's and finally right-handed to a drain on the Whitney-Phipps private road after 25 minutes. All in all this was a fine day with a multitude of foxes.

Wednesday, October 22, we met at Spark's and had a short run of 10 minutes in Schiff's. Saturday, October 25, we met at the Old Kennels and the story was much the same. Lack of rain made scenting conditions impossible and though we viewed our fox in Broad Hollow hounds simply could not hold the line. Finally, Wednesday, October 29, we met at Davison's and though we had had no rain for more than a month, hounds were able to mark one fox to ground in Piping Rock after ten minutes and ran a second from Davison's to Coe's back driveway with great cry, whereupon they immediately lost and could not recover the line.

Thus, in spite of lack of rain and poor scenting conditions in the past two weeks, Meadow Brook has had a most pleasant and successful cub hunting season. —Core Cavanagh, honorary secretary.

OAK BROOK HOUNDS

R. D. 2, Hinsdale, Illinois.
Established 1944.
Recognized 1948.

Wed., Oct. 8, a frosty 6:00 A. M. was the final Cub Hunt of the season. Hunting the Salt Creek area, that foxy old red again led the pack up and down the creek and around the woods, finally fading away to tease the hounds another day. The score: 24 Cub Hunts on fixture; 7 foxes viewed; two accounted for; no kills; smallest Field (besides staff), 4 riders; largest Field 30; and lots of fun while most folks were still wasting time in bed.

On Sat., Oct. 11, Father Harold Jochem, O. F. M. performed the beautiful ceremony of "Blessing the Hounds". He included the horses and riders in his blessing. We are grateful to Father Harold for his keen interest in the Hunt and for the courtesy of permitting us to hunt over the Franciscan Property.

There were 40 members and guests who rode in the first formal hunt following the ceremony. Also, there were a score of mounted riders who do not follow the hounds, and more than a hundred spectators at the blessing who arrived in cars.

After the blessing, there were distant trumpet flourishes and the singing of "Horns and Hounds" by the Field. Then, on signal of M. F. H. Mohlman, the Hunt moved off with 12½ couples of hounds for two hours of sport across the fields and through the woods, taking fences and gullies in stride. The lines followed by the hounds led through the south part of the Butler property, across Keith Lines', through the Templeton estate, and through a part of the Healy Farms.

The dry, dusty earth has made extremely bad scenting conditions; in the standing weeds and tall grass, even a strong drag line can scarcely be followed. The pack of 12½ to 13½ couples has shown fair sport in spite of this. With more frost and moisture, we hope to catch up with some of those smart foxes.

The Staff took credit for the first spill of the first formal hunt when Arthur Payne went off on his head at the 35th Road in-and-out. Arthur wasn't hurt, said he wasn't even dazed, but he couldn't remember what horse he was riding or which fence caused trouble.

Judith Landis had a coldly spectacular spill on Oct. 22. While fording Salt Creek, her young Hydronium chose to leap into the deep water rather than easing down the steep bank. Both Judith and her mount were completely submerged, and it was a tense moment when the horse came up first. However, Judith soon emerged, shook the water from her eyes, saw her horse on the far bank, then waded out with the cold water tickling her ribs. She remounted and rode back to the kennels with the Hunt.

There have been two more of those interesting Junior Hunts since our last letter. On Oct. 4, the 22nd Cub Hunt, Tammy Mohlman was Junior Field Master for a fast drag. On Oct. 25, the 5th formal hunt, Tony Rosenthal was Junior Field Master on a drag through that trappy country to the south.

Mill Creek Joint Meet—A clear, dry 50 degrees with a 20-mile wind made tough scenting for the 7½ couples of Mill Creek hounds, even for the carefully laid drag line. In spite of conditions, the pack ran the lines fast enough to make a real sporting chase over some interesting country for the Field of about 32. The last line, fast and with several fences in quick succession, was nearly a steeplechase.

A stirrup cup at the Kennels before hounds moved off helped the gay banter and conversation the hack to the first cast.

Oak Brook riders were: Norval Anderson, Vivian Bachmann, Michael Butler, James Kraml, Frank Laimbeer III, A. D. Plamondon III, S. R. Rosenthal, Miriam Stephens, Frank Walker, and Libby Walker. These 10, if we counted correctly, formed the largest representation of any visiting hunt, Longmeadow being second with 6 members riding. Our thanks to Joint-Masters, Mrs. James Simpson, Jr. and Charles Steele, the Staff, and

Foxfire Wins Two Events At Goldens Bridge Hounds Trials

Goldens Bridge Hounds not only hold a top race meeting but when scheduling their hunter trials, also include hounds. The hound race is run over 2 1-2 miles of natural hunting country. Outstanding among the starters was Middlebury Hounds' Prowler and their Ringer which finished 1-2 with Goldens Bridge Hounds' Music 3rd.

The under 18 group had a children's hunters event and special emphasis was placed on suitability of the horse as a child's hunter. Master Denny Haight rode the winner in Horse Shoe Farm's Foxfire with Miss Nancy Young 2nd on the Philip L. Bondy's Fashion Plate.

At horse shows it is seldom if ever that the middle and heavyweights are divided due to lack of entries in the latter division. However, at these trials there were classes for each division and Philip L. Bondy rode King Dora to capture the middle-weight division while the heavy-weight blue went to H. Leon Much-in's O'Roger.

members of the Mill Creek Hunt for an afternoon of good sport.

Wayne-Du Page Joint Meet—The hunt and hospitality at Wayne on October 26 will probably stand as the most pleasurable of the 1952 season. A field of 58 enjoyed every minute of 2½ hours in the saddle behind 7 couples of hounds that carried the line at a good gallop most of the time, in spite of poor scenting condition, through beautiful country, with enough fences and hazards to keep horses and riders eager and alert.

The first check, after a long fast line, was at the Montgomery Orr estate, where Monty and Louise refreshed the riders with silver flagons of wine.

After the hunt, the riders and their friends were guests of M. F. H. and Mrs. McClure Kelley at their home, The Pillars, for a sumptuous Hunt Breakfast. The piece de resistance was Elk Churchill. The elk was shot by McClure on a recent expedition in Wyoming. It was prepared by the incomparable Dora (Mrs. McClure Kelley), who captures the eye and then wins the heart by way of the stomach.

Oak Brook's 18 riders, the largest representation of visiting Hunts, consisted of Ted Mohlman, M. F. H., Norval Anderson, Vivian Bachmann, Frank Boutin, Peter Dahmrow, Ester Healy, Tom Healy, Betty Henry, James Kraml, Kenneth Kraml, Frank Laimbeer, Judith Landis, Ed McCaughy, Sally Moeling, Arthur Payne, S. Roy Rosenthal, Joyce Ruthy, and Miriam Stephens.

The Junior Oak Brook Hounds were represented by Judy Coffin and Susie Coffin, who did justice to their junior colors with their riding in the hunt. —N.E.A.

THE CHASE

The Burton (Texas) Boy Scouts were supposed to perform as the jump crew for the Gray Horse Farm Hunter and Jumper Show but the presence of several armadillos on the hunt course proved too much temptation. They spent most of their time chasing, and catching, instead of working. It would seem that "hunt" course could have a double meaning. —The Texan

JOE H. PALMER

On October 31 Joe H. Palmer died of coronary thrombosis at the age of forty-eight and Thoroughbred racing and breeding lost one of its staunchest supporters and champions.

Mr. Palmer, the son of Joe W. Palmer and Sarah Frances Doyle Palmer was graduated with honors from the University of Kentucky in 1927 and was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa. The next year he received an M. A. degree from the university and from 1928 to 1932 he was an instructor in English there. The next two years he taught the same subject at the University of Michigan, where he also took graduate studies for his Ph. D. degree. Just about the time he was ready to write his thesis to finish his work for a doctorate degree the opportunity to write for the Blood-Horse presented itself. His enthusiasm for the Thoroughbred sport was such that he gave up the writing of his thesis and his professorship for the lot of a turf writer.

Within a short time his writings became a byword to followers of the sport of racing and it was no time before Mr. Palmer was working for the New York Herald Tribune. His column "Views of the Turf" appeared in that publication every Monday. He was the author of "Names in Pedigree", "Horses in the Blue Grass", and "The Thoroughbred Horse". He was editor of "American Race Horses" in 1944, 1945 and 1946. Articles by him were in great demand by all turf publications. He also broadcast racing for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Although Mr. Palmer would scoff at the statement, this was no ordinary man whose writings appeared on the sport pages. His work was so entertaining that people who had only the very remotest connections with racing read his columns for the sheer pleasure of reading the work of an expert craftsman.

His loss to the sport of racing cannot be measured by any values. He was equally at ease with the lowliest grooms or those of the highest rank in the sport. When he wrote in defense of the sport he was quoted and requoted by not only those actively engaged in racing but also by those who are its avowed enemies. The clear thinking and logics that he used on problems of the turf brought out the ingrained sense of fair play of those inimical to Thoroughbred racing.

The industry itself was not spared by Joe H. Palmer, and when he presented his views on evils within its own ranks, quick steps were taken to remedy those evils.

Everyone who had anything to do with the game respected him and racing may never again have anyone so eminent and distinguished to champion and grace its cause.

PENNSYLVANIA ACTIVITIES

The prominent Kentucky breeder, Dr. Esie Asbury, will address the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders' Association at a dinner meeting on November 20, at the Mansion House Hotel in West Chester, Pa.

Dr. Asbury will speak on Modern Trends in Breeding and Racing, after which the excellent colored movie showing the complete cycle of stud farm activities made at Greentree Farm will be presented.

The association is expecting a large turnout of the Pennsylvania horsemen and their guests to greet the successful breeder.

NATIONAL HORSE SHOW BRIEFS

This was one year when exhibitors stayed at home so that they could vote before coming to New York for the National Horse Show. At the reception Monday night the crowd was rather small but people began to appear at Madison Square Garden Tuesday morning. Many of them had gotten up early, voted, and then headed for New York, so that they could be on hand for the afternoon classes. Otis Trowbridge kept everyone informed about the election returns and this added job kept the well-known announcer busy during the Tuesday evening session.

When William Steinkraus rode the United States Equestrian Team's Democrat to win the Royal Winter Fair Trophy on Tuesday afternoon, several members of the press began to have misgivings as to whether this might to some indication about the way the election would go.

Came Tuesday evening, and Mr. Steinkraus and Democrat had the only clean performance in the jump-off, to win the International Goodwill Challenge Trophy. The top rider and the veteran Army horse received acclaim from the spectators for their "landslide" victories.

Later on in the evening a couple of horsemen were asked, "Wasn't that wonderful about Democrat?" "I wouldn't say that," replied one. "Oh, I know what you mean now. I was thinking about the election."

Joe Green is without a horse. He bought the California horse Tamara and showed him at the Pennsylvania National and also had his entered at the National. The bay gelding was sold to Mrs. Hugh Barclay and now Joe is on the lookout for a mount.

Mrs. J. Deane Rucker's 4-year-old gelding Spanish Mint, established a record at the recent Pennsylvania National, when he won 7 qualifying classes to annex the green hunter championship. Heading straight for the National after Harrisburg was over, Mrs. Rucker was on hand to see Jack Payne ride Spanish Mint to collect a blue in his first trip over jumps at the National.

SCHOOLING ACCIDENT

Young Miss Jeanna Portman of Houston, Texas had quite a nasty spill while schooling for the Gray Horse Farm Hunter and Jumper Show. At first it was thought that her injuries might be serious but a slight concussion and many bruises were the result. As this enterprising youngster earns her entry fee by working after school, the generous spectators and exhibitors contributed over $100 for her hospital expenses.—The Texan

OAK BROOK HOUNDS NEWS

Wilson Evans, Chairman of the Hunt Committee and Field Master, was told by his doctor on Oct. 13 that he must give up riding to hounds in order to avoid heart strain. Wilson will continue his interest in the hunt and continue showing his good horse Silver Lining, but those long gallops across country are taboo. This is a severe blow to Mr. Evans, and a real loss to the hunting field. It is hoped his doctor will soon find reason to cancel the order.... Gen. Roy D. Keehn, of Hinsdale, again has time to hunt with Oak Brook, Frank E. Laimbeer II, of Jigolier, Pa., and the Rolling Rock Hunt is on military duty in Chicago, Jane Llewelly Ott and Don Harneck are hunting with Oak Brook. Mr. Harneck is back after 2 years of not hunting.... Dr. J. Van Epps is home again after 7 weeks in Englewood Hospital and is getting around a bit on crutches, but doesn't think he will be up to dancing by Nov. 1. This all resulted from a quiet ride in the Forest Preserve.... In accordance with an old Oak Brook custom, a case of beer, served in the stable to grooms and riders, is the price of atonement for involuntarily parting company with one's mount. The following have atoned this year: Vivian Bachmann, Miriam Stephens, Frank Walker, Judith Landis.

PENNSYLVANIA NATIONAL

It really takes more than one visit to find out what goes on. This year the committee is stabling 650 horses which includes the extra International teams' horses, the dressage horses, The Flying Dutchman and Bill Biddle, plus the Anheuser-Busch 8-horse Clydesdale hitch and the Holland Furnace 8-pony hitch. There are 14 acres under one room and the stabling facilities are unlimited. As has been mentioned before, the show is fortunate in that the exhibitors are able to get their horses outside to exercise them and the stabling is on the ground floor, making it an ideal set up for a horse show.

This year Manager George Ebel-hare and Bernard R. Hoppe, vice-president, got together to devise some means to cut down the length of time it takes to get the jumps in and out of the ring. They came up with a new method which includes the use of two three-wheel tractors. On each tractor there is a 16-foot platform attached in front and a 4-foot platform on the back. The tractor moves right to the spot where the jump is to be placed and all the equipment is lifted off as the tractor moves back out of the way. When the jumps are to be removed, the platform gets in so close to the jump that it is only a matter of lifting the jump slightly and the tractor moves in closer so that the obstacle is loaded immediately. In just under 1 1/2 minutes, the jumps were out of the ring after the ladies' conformation hunter stake and the stock horses were entering the ring.

From hunters and jumpers, Morton W. "Cappy" Smith invaded the stock horse ranks. Riding Pumpkin, Cappy topped the veteran exhibitors for a blue ribbon and then came back in the championship stake to be pinned 6th in a class of 14. The hunter and jumper events were over for the afternoon when the stake event was held but a great many of the exhibitors and riders stayed around to watch the stock class.

Not only is the clock watched closely to see that the classes are run right along but various exhibitors have to keep an eye on the time of day. Mrs. Jack Goodwin made a last minute check as to the time the ladies' conformation hunter stake would be held since she had to go to the airport to meet Miss Myrna Felvey. Miss Felvey took a vacation from school to ride William J. Brewster's recent acquisition, My Bill.

Evidently the Pennsylvania National made quite an impression on one bystander. After watching quite a number of classes with great interest, he turned to the person standing next to him and asked, "Where does this show go from here?"

Some years ago the artist, Paul Brown, did some sketches after a trip abroad. The results of his work stirred up a great deal of curiosity as he sketched horses with blinkers jumping in the show ring. Nothing like that had been seen over here but now the day has been saved. Pat Dixon, riding Millarden Farms' Injun Joe, drew the attention of all when the Palmino came into the ring wearing blinkers.

Something new has been added to the International classes. After a course has been set up, the riders from the various countries walk into the ring to look at them. The U. S. riders joined in as they said this was how it was done abroad.

Sugar and sweets didn't sweeten up the Charles B. Lyman stable area. During the show many people stopped by the stall of the big grey gelding, Tanahmerah and fed him sweets. Saturday morning Mrs. Lyman went to his stall and when she failed to produce a lump of sugar, Tanahmerah departed completely from his usual docile attitude and bit her on the thumb. The injury was so severe that Mrs. Lyman had to leave the show and depart for home.

V. H. A. MEETING

Word has been received from Nick Saegmuller, Field Secretary of the Virginia Horsemen's Assn., that the association will have a meeting at the Springs Field Club in Warrenton, Va. on Wednesday, November 19, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Members, their friends, and veterinarians practicing in Virginia are invited to attend and to meet Dr. M. T. I. Cronin, director of the new Northern Virginia Diagnostic Laboratory at Warrenton.

Dr. Cronin will speak of his plans

Bostwick Field Defeats Ramapo In Final Game Of the Outdoor Season

Bill Briordy

High goal outdoor polo in Metropolitan New York came to a close on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 26, with Bostwick Field beating Ramapo, 11-9, at Bostwick Field, Old Westbury, L. I., and the Westchester quartet topping Blind Brook, 6-5, at the Blind Brook Polo Club, Purchase, N. Y.

At Bostwick Field, Juan Rodriguez hit 7 goals—he split the up-rights 6 times in the second half—led the way in the triumph of Pete Bostwick's side. Young Joe Schwartz, Huntington, L. I., player who is coming along nicely; Rodriguez, Bostwick and Bill Stoothoff rode in that order for the winners.

Arthur Kaye, Archie Young, Al Parsells, 8-goal star, and George C. Sherman Jr., president of the Indoor Polo Association of America, formed the Ramapo four. The score in this match was knotted at 4-all at intermission.

Moving to the attack in rapid style, Bostwick Field raced to a 7-5 lead in the fourth chukker and added 2 goals in each of the fifth and sixth periods. Ramapo notched 3 of its markers in the last chukker.

Rodriguez, a hard-riding gent, stroked 3 of his goals in the fourth period and added 2 more in the fifth. Schwartz and Rodriguez each hit 2 tallies for Bostwick Field. Parsells led the way for Ramapo with 5 goals, Young getting 4 and Sherman 1.

The Blind Brook fans watched a thriller, as Charley Whitney hit his third goal of the match at 1:35 of the sudden-death overtime period to give Westchester the victory. Whitney rode with Adie von Gontard, Jack Crawford and Dan Wallace.

Making up the Blind Brook side were Bill Westerlund, Bob Ackerman, Tom Glynn and Major Fred Collin. Westchester trailed, 3-0, at half-time in this engagement, which saw Westchester gather its forces strongly in the second half to go on to win.

Westchester's other goals were scored by von Gontard, who had 2, and Crawford, who hit 1. Ackerman and Glynn each hit 2 tallies for the losers, with Westerlund tallying once.

Many of the players who have seen action on Long Island and in Westchester are now turning their attention toward putting their gear and ponies in shape for the opening of the 1952-53 indoor season at Squadron A Armory, famous Madison Avenue ring, where activity is set to start on Saturday night, Nov. 22, with the first of the weekly double-headers. At least thirty-five players will be available for competition at Squadron A during the coming campaign.

for the laboratory, how the laboratory can assist the horse breeders and the facilities available to the horsemen. After the formal meeting there will be a social period so that Dr. Cronin can meet the veterinarians and breeders individually.

It is hoped that breeders and everyone concerned will take advantage of the opportunity to attend this meeting and acquaint themselves with the plans for the work of Northern Virginia Diagnostic Laboratory.

RETURNS TO ENGLAND

Capt. Pat Furnival, the young Englishman who has been riding at the hunt meetings in this country, sailed for England October 31. Capt. Furnival will spend the winter in Ireland and plans to return to the U. S. next year.

MOORE COUNTY

Cubbing has started for the Moore County Hounds in the sandhills and long-leaf-pine country around Southern Pines, and Pinehurst, N. C. under the Joint-Mastership of W. O. Moss and William J. Brewster. The whippers-in are Mrs. Moss (Hon.), Jack Goodwin and Curt Dutton.

The first formal meet of the season is set for Thanksgiving Day. Thereafter the hounds will go out on Tuesdays and Thursdays for live hunts, and on Saturday for drag hunts.

Winter residents are arriving regularly at both resorts, with many of the stables already filled with hunters which will remain here during the entire winter and spring.

Horsemen Meet To Improve and Learn New Riding Methods

Janet J. Hamilburg

The Millwood Hunt Club in Framingham, Massachusetts sponsored a schooling course with Captain Vladimir S. Littauer, nationally known author and horseman, on September 12, 13, 14, and 15. The purpose of the weekend was for interested riders and spectators to improve their own riding and to learn new methods of schooling for their hunters. The group included people who had ridden over 50 years but still felt that they could learn something more. In general, everyone wanted to better their horses in order to have more pleasant hunters.

Under the direction of Mrs. Winthrop Pyemont, the weekend included schooling lessons during the day at Leo J. Murray's schooling field, followed by lectures and discussions at night.

The course opened with an introductory lecture on Friday night. Movies of the dressage and jumping of the 1948 Olympics were shown after which Captain Littauer answered questions on this topic. The difference between these phases of riding was emphasized and at the same time it was agreed that dressage had no practical value for the hunter in the hunting field, but was a separate art of its own.

Saturday morning the mounted work began with a preliminary check on riders' positions. After demonstrations of a correct position all riders were shown how they could improve individually. The change was to a more workmanlike position that stressed four points; unity, security, non-abuse of the horse, and more efficient use of the aids.

Following this, work began over poles to stabilize horse and obtain a quiet approach to a jump. The idea was that as the horse acquired the habit of approaching and going over a jump quietly, he would eventually negotiate a four foot jump in the same quiet manner. This class was made up of about twenty horses, thus helping them to get the habit of moving quietly when in a group which is so important for a hunter.

Saturday afternoon Captain Littauer started to use cavaletti. After learning a quiet approach to the jump, the horse must develop boldness, flight and acrobatics. Captain Littauer used the cavaletti as his means of schooling the hunter in these particular phases. Cavaletti is used mainly to develop acrobatics. You can also develop in your horse stabilization of approach to the jump, lengthening of the strides of the trot during the approach to the jump, and the lowering of head and neck during the approach. The thrust upward with the forehead during the take-off is developed by fixing a short take-off distance, the thrust of the hindquarters during the take-off by arranging a long take-off distance, and the use of back and neck during the jump is developed as a result of both of these exercises. Captain Littauer helped the riders to analyze their horses to find out weaknesses, in jumping to use various exercises accordingly.

At the lecture Saturday night, the riders discussed their problems with Captain Littauer as they went over the day's work. Captain Littauer showed his movie on "Forward Schooling" which was followed by discussion pertaining to this subject.

Sunday the work progressed from cavaletti to a series of five in-and-outs taken at the canter. This exercise is not used until the horse is proficient in the cavaletti. The horse must go through this series of in-and-outs on loose reins, and the rider will note that he establishes the habit of a good take-off by himself. As the horse improves his technique, you increase the speed of the canter, provided that you don't excite the horse. By using different combinations of jumps you can correct the inclination of your horse to take-off too early or too late. After the take-off has become regular, you start to vary the obstacles in the series, making some parallel bars or else leaving space for one stride or two or three strides. As a result of this the horse is able to lengthen and shorten his strides at will as he learns to figure correctly.

Sunday afternoon the emphasis was on schooling exercises that are of importance to the hunter. The ideal hunter moves forward readily, comes back easily, and bends himself on turns, the former being known as longitudinal flexibility and the latter as lateral flexibility. You work toward longitudinal flexibility by going faster and slower, first at a trot and then at a canter. Longitudinal flexibility is a very important factor in jumping because the horse must contract and extend his back and it also helps him to adjust his stride for the take-off. Lateral flexibility is obtained by various exercises consisting of circular movements, such as circles, half-circles, and half-circles in reverse.

The ideal hunter must also possess balance and agility. Counter-gallop is a wonderful exercise for the horse's balance and general agility. This was suggested to the riders when they did more schooling exercises Monday afternoon.

Monday morning's lesson was of utmost value to a good hunter. The horses were required to proceed in an orderly fashion over a panel in the fence and into the next field where they maintained their pace until told to jump back. The first attempt resulted in a mad scramble but when the morning was over, all horses were going in a relaxed and quiet manner.

After the last schooling lesson on Monday afternoon it was obvious to the riders and spectators that the horses had improved immensely when compared to the first day. The riders had also improved, not only in their riding, but in their thinking as they saw the success of Captain Littauer's method. In the few days that Captain Littauer was there, they got many new ideas on the subject of schooling hunters.

During the course, Captain Littauer was assisted by three of his pupils, Janet Stevens, Janet Hamilburg, and Jane Russo, who were all able to demonstrate any of his points, as well as being able to help some of the riders who had special problems with their horses.

Riders who participated were Mrs. Henry S. Hall, Miss Edith Hall, Mrs. Nathaniel Hamlen, Mrs. Charles B. Anderson, Miss Ann Christian, Mrs. E. O. Smith, Miss Honora Haynes, Miss Ann Gherin Ghelli, Miss Sylvia Murry, Miss Marcia Gross, Miss Penelope Turton, Mrs. J. Felton, and Mrs. Winthrop Pyemont.

Ned King Portrays Familiar Scenes At The National

This week's cover picture depicts a scene which is familiar to all those people attending The National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden. There is hardly a person who would be better to portray such behind the scenes action than Ned King, the man who has been managing this big show for so many years. There isn't a spot in the Garden which Manager King is not familiar with and incidents and happenings during this show are well known to him.

The lithograph reproduced this week is called "He's Clean!" and the characters are reminiscent of Charlie Geegan, in charge at the in-gate, Miss Peggy Mills (now Mrs. Kenneth Winchell), Joe Green and Raymond Burr. Of all the spots at the show, the tenseness is more pronounced at the in-gate as the waiting riders watch closely to see what performance they have to beat. Owners, grooms and dispensers of free advice range around the gate and the vastness of the Garden is disregarded as one and all crowd at this gate to watch. The out-gate attracts a number of people but as the horses pass by there, their performances are over and there is not the excitement which prevails at the in-gate.

With many months of preparation behind every entry which appears at this show, many of the exhibitors are in for disappointments as there are only so many ribbons to be awarded per class. What may have appeared to be a top horse in the state circuits may fall short in the competition which is met at The National. Then again, an unknown may come to the front to take the laurels and bring great credit to his owner and trainer. Whatever the situation, there is nothing more pleasing than to watch a horse jump the final fence and hear Announcer Otis Trowbridge say, "No faults on No. 5", or if it is a hunter event, know that the horse has performed well over his fences and will then be brought into the ring for the conformation judging.

Mr. King has selected the division which has great appeal to the spectators—the open jumpers. For every "He's Clean!" which is recorded, this means another horse which will come back into the ring for a jump-off; the jumps are raised and once again the crowd will converge on the in-gate to watch the performances.
